Dear Mrs. Jordan:

I have recently been going through old Georgia Pioneers Genealogical Magazines and was thrilled to see your ad in Vol. 4, p.44. I am sure you are of my line, but before I send you too much data, I wish first to know that you are at the same address and will receive my correspondence. ~~As~~ We have corresponded with a Dr. Holmes in Shreveport who may have passed on much information to you (or you could have heard from someone I do not know of). I need to know where you are now in your research on your line, also.

Although I do not have you definitely tied to my line, I would be very much surprised if you are not a descendant of my Pope line. A sister of my Patsy Pope - Polly Ridley Pope, b 29 Aug. 1767, d 5 July 1833 married Edmund Jordan (I do not seem to have that date) who was born 1761 in Halifax Co., N.C., died in Oglethorpe Co., Ga. (will dated 1? Nov. 1836 proved 7 Dec. 1836 - Oglethorpe was cut off from Wilkes.) I do not have a complete record of their children. They had a son Willis Asbury Jordan b 8 Nov. 1801 in Oglethorpe, d 22 April 1877 in Spalding Co., Ga., m 10 Sept. 1822 (Oglethorpe) Sarah Wesley Dunn, and had Lorenzo H. Hull Jordan and Willis Pope Jordan. Edmund Jordan above had a daughter Day Ridley (Daridley-Darilly) Jordan who was buried inShreveport, La. in 1858, married first in 1826 (Oglethorpe) Benjamin Watson Ogilvie and 2nd in 1835 (Oglethorpe) Edward V. Collier. She had a daughter Sallie Powell Collier who married Robert Franklin Moore whose mother was Priscilla Holmes who was the daughter of Robert Holmes and Sarah Pope. This Pope line and that of Polly Ridley Pope stem from the same Pope family but before I dig into how, I need to know if you have already these records and if you also have a Holmes line. Also the father of the Benjamin Watson Ogilvie above was James Ogilvie (wife Elizabeth Watson) and James Ogilvie's brother William married Rebecca Pope who was a sister of Polly Ridley Pope Jordan.

We have this Pope line worked back to the immigrant William Pope who died in Isle of Wight Co., Va. about 1699. We descend through his son Henry who married Sarah Watts, dau of John Watts and his wife Alice English; then through his son John Pope (a very prominent line) who died suddenly 1745 in Edgecombe Co., N.C. and his wife Mary _____; then through his son Lewis Pope b 22 Sept. 1744 in Edgecombe Co., N.C., will 20 Sep. 1803/14 Feb. 1805 in Oglethorpe Co., Ga. Lewis was the father of my Patsy & of Polly Ridley Pope.
I have much, much material on these families. Even if you have been in correspondence with others on these lines, I believe that I can still provide you with material that would be of interest to you. I am anxious to know more of your family. Can you yet connect to this family? Please let me hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Mildred

Mrs. Nance;

In answer to the April 22nd. issue of the 'Shreveport Journal'. I'm interested in your Pope line. Do you have a listing of the family of your Cary W. Pope?.....Brothers, sisters, parents?

John Thomas Jordan, 1806, is as far back as I can definately trace. Would be most appreciative if we could exchange any information, if these names mean anything to you.

Hoping to hear from you soon,

Sincerely,

Dear Pope Cousin:

The Eight original Popes to Ga By 1790. were Sons and Grand sons of John Pope & w. Mourning McKenzie (Both dead By 1784) of Edgecomb, N.C.

I feel your Rebecca most probably is a g.g.rand-dau- of Barnaby or Jesse Pope - (Sons of John & Mourning Pope), they also had a Bro. Lewis, who names a dau in his 1808 (Oglethorpe Will) Rebecca Ogilvie (I do not know if this is her middle name?) Lewis had three sons, but the oldest didn't marry till 1796.

→ Barnaby - had Sons. Barnaby Jr & Henry - either of Age to be Father of your Rebecca. (have will 1795 - Hancock Co)

Jesse had Sons. Jesse Jr, Cullen, Henry, Samuel, John, Allen - some of these of Age to have dau By 1788. (1812 will Hancock Ga)

Henry Pope oldest Son of John + Mourning Pope Bn. 1722/23 died 1784 N.C. had 5 Sons in Wilkes Co - 1786 -
(1) Burwell (have will No Rebecca) died Oglethorpe 1799
Had Wife - Mary in 1786 Deed. → (2) Willis (Little Data) w Mary -
Wilkes Co. Ga. (3) Henry Augustine (Have Will No Rebecca) " " 1807
(4) John - (Little Data)
(5) - Wiley - (Little Data).

Traditionally - The Above 8 Popes came to Wilkes Co - Spring 1786. All from Halifax Co, N.C. (N.C. Records & Deeds ect. show this to be Reasonably Accurate)

Your question as to Brothers + Sisters of Carey Whitfield Pope - he had 14 - None named Rebecca -
They were All Bn Granville N.C. Carey W. Oldest Bn 1781 and only one to live in Ga - His Father Moved from Granville to Williamson Co Texas 1809. with All other Children -

I have Search Ga for yrs. under Belief Carey W. Pope's Parents once Lived Ga. after leaving otherwise. I abandoned the Ga. Pope Thus know little about descendants of the Above Eight Ga Popes. My Pope Line (and probably your also)

SOME GA POPE DESCENDANTS OF THE ABOVE MENTIONED GA POPES — have CONFUSED THEIR PROPER POPE LINE WITH THAT OF THE NATHANIEL POPE LINE, WHOS DAU ANNE WAS THE GRANDMOTHER OF GEO. WASHINGTON. SHOULD YOU HAVE SUCH DATA, I SUGGEST YOU DIS-REGARD SAME, AS ADEQUATE RECORDS ARE AVAILABLE IN VA. & N.C. FOR PROOF OF THE WM POPE LINEAGE TO THOSE FIRST 8 POPES TO WILKES CO GA., N 1786

Dear Mr Jordan

I recieved your name from the National Surname Index stating you are researching the Pope name. I wonder if we could be hunting the same line.

My maiden name was Pope. My father was Charlie Pope son of Thomas Franklin Pope. I know little about Thomas befor his marriage. The 1850 census gives his birth place as Tenn. He was born in 1842. He moved to Ill. where he married Elizabeth Hill ~~on~~ March 25, 1875. Of this union come 4 boys and four girls my father being the oldest. At the time of his death at Mc Leansboro, Ill Nov 4, 1893 he was survived by four brothers, one in Ill, two in Oregon and one in Texas.

If you can tell me anything about Thomas' family I will be greatful.

Sincerely
Jewel P Gardner

She was a student at Nazareth Academy, Bardstown, from December 5, 1826, until December 17, 1827. The Academy records do not show her age, nor do I know the date of her marriage to Judge Ringo, of Little Rock, Arkansas. She lived in Little Rock from the time of her marriage until her death. After the death of her father in October 1849, she returned to Nazareth Academy, remaining until July 17, 1851. Leaving Nazareth as a graduate, for several years she lived with her aunts, Mrs. Ringo and Mrs. Trapnell, in Little Rock, and in that town she met and married her first husband, James B. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson was twelve years older than Mary Watkins Cocke and the marriage was not looked upon with favor by her aunts, Mrs. Ringo and Mrs. Trapnell, but in spite of this opposition on the part of her family, the marriage took place in the latter part of 1853.

The first home of the young couple was in Little Rock, next door to Mrs. Trapnell. There they lived for two or three years. I do not know when they moved to Kentucky, but in September 1856 they were either living in Owensboro, Kentucky, or visiting her brother John Pope, at his home a few miles west of that town, for on September 14th of that year, John Pope's daughter Agnes was baptized at Saint Stephen's Church in Owensboro, and James B. and Mary W. Johnson were the sponsors. I am told that they did live in Owensboro for a few years, and it must have been prior to 1857, for their only son was born in Little Rock in that year, and Irene, their youngest child, was born there in 1860.

When the Civil War began Mr. Johnson joined the Confederate Army and soon rose to the rank of Major in the First Battalion, Arkansas Infantry. In a short time he was Lieutenant Colonel of the Third Confederate Infantry. He was killed in a railroad accident in 1862. Colonel Johnson was a native of Lexington, Kentucky, a man of much ability, and a brave and dashing officer.

In December 1865 Mary Watkins Johnson married Major Nicholas Snowden Hill, of Baltimore, and went to live at the Hill home in Baltimore County, Maryland. As the wife of Major Hill she became one of the leaders of Baltimore society, and her home was often the meeting place of the elite of that city. She died in 1903.

as consul general to Cuba and as a major general of the United States Army."

A few miles above Stratford behind a marshy entrance are the pleasant waters of Pope's Creek named for one of the oldest families on the Potomac, but immortalized by the boy who was born near its banks. Up river from this creek a distance of about a mile and a half is Bridge's Creek. The land between the two creeks was settled by John Washington, the immigrant, after he came out from England in 1656. He was a member of the House of Burgesses, gave his name to his parish, and was a thrice-married man. The name of his first wife is not known. His second wife was the daughter of his neighbour Nathaniel Pope, and his third wife was the daughter of Thomas Gerrard of St. Clement's Manor and the festive Westmoreland banqueting hall. The first Washington homestead is believed from evidence in the soil to have been built on Bridge's Creek. Here, too, is the Washington burying ground, additional evidence of an early dwelling near by, for in olden times the family graves were made very near the homestead. When this house disappeared is not known, but the immigrant's grandson, Augustine, lived on the west side of Pope's Creek near its mouth. In a house, situated somewhere on the estate between Bridge's and Pope's Creek, to Augustine Washington and his wife Mary Ball was born on February 22 (N.S.), 1732, the son whom they called George. That house disappeared long since. The farm has for generations been known on the river as Wakefield, but it is not believed that George Washington knew it by this name.

As if this one event were not glory enough for the old river, not to mention a mere county, James Monroe, Elizabeth, and had John. Elizabeth married secondly James Johnson, of Westmoreland, before July 27, 1678. The widow Rose, relict of Dr. Thomas Gerrard, married secondly John Newton, who came from Maryland, and was the ancestor of the Newton family of Westmoreland.

The Pope Family.—Nathaniel Pope appears as one of the twenty-four freemen of the "grand Inquest" in Maryland in 1637. He affixed a mark to his writings. In 1643 he and his nine menial servants were exempted from all military service. Sent as agent to Kent Island in 1647, he attempted, as charged, to persuade the people there to come and live at Appomattox until they should become strong enough to seize the country again. In 1656 he was made Lieutenant-Colonel. He married Luce ———, and had: 1, Anne, who married John Washington; 2, Margaret, who married William Hardwich; 3, Thomas; 4, Nathaniel.

Thomas Pope moved to the city of Bristol, where he died, leaving a wife, Joanna, and sons, Thomas, Richard, Charles, John, and Nathaniel. (Will dated September 3, 1684; proved October 20, 1685. New Eng. Hist. and Geneal. Reg., Vol. XLIII., p. 417.) On February 28, 1710, Joanna Pope, of Bristol, authorized Thomas Wills, merchant, and Nathaniel Pope, of Pope's Creek in Virginia, mariner, to dispose of the plantation commonly called "the Clifts." (Essex County Records.)

Mary Pope, alias Bridges, gave a calf to her son Nathaniel Pope, alias Bridges, in 1675. As Mary Nicholas, widow of Lewis Nicholas, she made presents in 1677 to her son Nathaniel Pope, alias Bridges, and to her son Lewis Nicholas. She married, 3rdly, Daniel Whitley, who promised to keep her children "so farre at school as to write and reade." Mary Nicholas refers to her brother and sister, Captain Daniel Lisson and Jane, his wife. The will of John Rosier (will, September–October, 1705) leaves land to Nathaniel Pope, clerk of Stafford and practitioner at law; and the rest of the estate is given to his wife, Mary Rosier, who was Mary Pope, alias Bridges. Was she the widow of Nathaniel Pope, son of Colonel Nathaniel Pope?

Lieutenant-Colonel Pope, on October 20, 1657, gave cattle to his son Nathaniel and his daughter Margaret Pope. In 1669 Thomas Pope took an inventory of the estate of his sister, Margaret Hardwich. An affectionate letter to Mrs. Hardwich, written May 8, 1669, by Thomas Patten, of Bristol, is given further on.

THE POPE FAMILY

The Pope Family was one of the very prominent families during the 1700's and 1800's.

We find them intermarried with many of the early settlers.

The Will of Burwell Pope was filed in Wake Co., North Carolina, 1799. Burwell was born in 1751 and died 1800. However, during the Revolution he was Justice of the Peace and member of the Inferior Court of Wake Co., North Carolina.

Burwell (m) Priscilla Wooten, the daughter of Benjamin and Elizabeth Wooten, as previously stated, and had seven children:

1. Robert (b) Sept. 26, 1775, (d) 1831
2. Tabitha (b) 1778, (d) 1852
3. Ann (b) 1780
4. Martha (b) 1782, (d) 1853 (called Patsey)
5. Wylie (Willie) (b) 1784, (d) 1864
6. Sarah (b) 1787, (d) 1850
7. Burwell Jr. (b) 1790 was a Brig. General, (d) 1840

In 1783, Burwell made a deed to Thomas Tullock and Harrison Macon. Witness: Thomas Wooten. Reference Book H, page 302.

Burwell Pope migrated to Wilkes Co., Ga., in 1785, and sold to Joseph Lane, Jr., of Wake Co., North Carolina 640 acres, Jan. 4, 1761. Registered in Orange Co. Book #8, page 28.

Thomas Wooten, James Freeman, Benjamin Taylor, James Thomas, and Phillip Wray, Esq. appointed appraisers of Burwell Pope's Estate. Burwell was deceased June 17, 1800.

The sons of Henry Pope of Halifax, North Carolina, made Indenture 9th of April, 1778, by them to John Wooten of Halifax.

Signed by H. Aug. Pope in presence of John Bradford, Jr. and Richard Bradford Wooten.

Dear Vivian,

I did so enjoy your letter and I do want to keep in contact with you because I am convinced you are related to my Pope line and I have been fascinated by the Jordan family, one of whom had its beginning in Isle of Wight Co,, Va. as did my own Pope line. I have always wished my early Pope line connected with this family.

Have you seen the book THESE JORDANS WERE HERE by Octavia Jordan Perry, pub. J. Grant Stevenson, 230 West 1230 North, Provo, Utah 84601, 1969? The book is on the shelf in our library here but I did not have time to do any extensive investigation of it but it is of Va. and N.C. Jordans. I feel that anyone who has a southern Jordan line, it is a must. There did not seem to be too much of the Georgia Jordans. A couple of places I made a note:

p.105. Thomas Jordan b _____, son of Thomas Jordan and grandson of Robert and Mary Belson Jordan, left a will probated Dec. 1769 (Book I, p.176) in the Northampton Co., N.C. courthouse. In this will Thomas names wife Elizabeth; son Harrod Jordan; and dau name not listed; and brother Burwell and Michael. wits. William Shoop (Sharp), George Jordan and Hannah Peebles.
p.106. John Jordan, a son of Burwell Jordan was b 1756 in Greenville Co., Va....after Rev. he migrated to Georgia and in 1827 lottery of that state received land in Washington Co. upon which he lived, died and was buried.

The index revealed quite a few Benjamin Jordans but the name of only one Pope and I believe no Holmes. There is much N.C. misc. Jordan data included and so I believe all Georgia Jordans have their anticedents mentioned in the book. The problem will be to connect.

Maxine Robinson and I have worked on our Pope line for quite some time. If you find out where they are now and what they are doing, please let me know. Maxine has not been doing any genealogy lately. I get a note from her every Christmas saying they are going to settle down soon but they never do. Last Christmas they were going to go back to Houston and settle down. I do not even know where her note was mailed from as the post mark does not always say.

And yes, I have corresponded with Pete Nance and also John Malone of Homer, La. Pete published his Nance book and included in it what he knew of his Popes. Is he still working on genealogy?

I suppose you have checked all the Jordan notes from Mrs. Davidson's Wilkes Co. Records. I really believe it is the destruction of the Washington Co. records that stumps so many of us.

I took a look at Edmund Jordan's will in Oglethorpe County which showed only the two children: Willis A. and Davidly. No wife was mentioned and so I am sure he was a widow when he died. Sometimes, when sons moved away, they were given their legacies before moving and then they are not named in the will. I will take a look at the deeds to see what Jordans are mentioned in them. But apparently, you could not be from Edmund as you show your John Thomas as son of Benjamin.

What records do you have of Pike Co.? I wonder if a further search there would reveal anything more.

Do let me hear from you again.

Sincerely,

Mildred

Dear Mildred:

Thank you so much for your letter of May 13th. We have O. J. Perry's book, 'These Jordans were here' in our genealogical library where I work. But really haven't had the chance to 'dig' into it like I would like. I've been trying to find a copy of it for my personel use, if you ever find one-grab it for me and send it C.O.D. I've got Goodspeed's looking.

I'm waiting now for an answer to a letter about my Jordans. A cousin of my husband's is claiming that a Benjamin Jordan is the father of my John T., but I'll need some proof before I'll make that statement! Sure are a lot of Benjamins running around. 'Course, in the 1850 Census of Pike Co., Ga., there is a Benjamin living with John T. Jordan, and this lists his birth state as Ga. But John T. died in 1859, and Benjamin doesn't show up on the 1860 Census! Really plan to start my digging on the Jordans in earnest now. "ave finally ...almost...(there is always something hanging, it seems) tied up my Hill Line. So I'll feel free to devote more time to my husband's line.

My search for Maxine Robinson drew a complete blank. I'm very disappointed and just a little disturbed for I do not believe that Maxine would just drop me without a word. I do hope that everything is alright with her.

My work is still very absorbing and holding my interest. I've been practically plowing through mountains of old letters, from 1930 to 1970, of a fine old man M. Blair Autry. He willed his papers, to our Library. Tied neatly in bundles, helter skelter, and I was given the task of cleaning up and making some order come out of all of it. All of this, of course, when I'm not needed on the floor to take care of patrons!! He wrote a book on the Autrys and on his wife's line, the Taylors. Thank goodness, I didn't have to go through her papers also. Just about through with this. Wish I could of known this man, he must of been one perfect gentleman, and since a young man, interested in his family ties--etc.

I neglected to mention in my last letter, just in case you haven't heard of Dr. Homer C. Cooper of Athens, Ga., that here would be a good line on Popes, I know that they are connected with my husband's Popes. The last I corresponded with him was 1969...my word, the time flies!

Do keep in touch. How long do you plan to be inSalt Lake? I would certainly like to see that library!!

Sincerely,

Vivian Jordan

GENEALOGY EXPLANATORY NOTE

(Directions for tracing a line of ancestry in this Genealogy)

Each descendant of George and Sarah Humphries Pope is numbered when his name first appears among the children of his parents. If he marries and has children, his name appears again in the following generation, bearing the same number, this time as the head of a family, in large print. If a name is to be thus repeated, there will be a small cross (+) before the name and number when first given.

Thus, in order to trace the ancestry of any one person, first find his name as given in small print. Above his name will be found the name of his parent in large print and the parent's number. Turning back to the preceeding generation, find this parent's name and number in small print, headed by his parent. This is the grandparent of the person at the original starting point. Trace the numbers back in this way through the generations until George Pope is reached. To trace a person's descendents, reverse the process and trace from the early to the late generations.

The ancestral line in parentheses following each subject's name, such as Gertrude Pope (William Pope, [Jr.]4, William Pope, [Sr.]3; James [Sr.]2; George1), simply means that Gertrude Pope is a daughter of William Pope, [Jr.] who is the son of William Pope, [Sr.], who is the son of James Pope, [Sr.], who is the son of George Pope.

Capt. THE POPE-COLE RELATIONSHIP

A two-fold relationship joins the Pope and the Cole families. First, Susanna (Susan Jane) Pope #10 in the Pope Family Genealogy is the daughter of James Pope, Jr. #4; grandaughter of James Pope, [Sr.] #3, and great-grandaughter of George Pope, #1. Susanna was a first cousin to Squire William Pope, Jr.#19. Susanna [Susan Jane] Pope married John Cole III, #6 in the Cole Family Genealogy and became the mother of James Pope Cole, the subject of "Stranger in a Strange Land."

A second tie linking the two families occurred when Gertrude Pope, #30 in the Pope Family Genealogy, the daughter of Squire William Pope, [Jr.] and Ann Scott, married John James Cole #13 in the Cole Family Genealogy.

Both the Pope and Cole families both owned land near Bluffton on the mainland. The Squire William Pope, Jr. family owned Crescent plantation a mile from Bluffton in the Devils Elbow Barony;[1] John James Cole who married Gertrude, the daughter of Squire William Pope, [Jr.], owned Moreland plantation in Bluffton township.[2]

[Captain] William Pope, Sr., the father of Squire William Pope, Jr. (1788-1862] with his wife Sarah Green Pope were the first of the family known on Hilton Head Island.[3] As early as 1786 William Pope, Sr. was reported as owning land at Coggins Point on Hilton Head Island. Among the plantations owned by Squire William Pope, Jr. on Hilton Head Island were: Point Comfort, Cotton Hope, and Coggins Point (the primary home and site of Fort Walker). He also owned a plantation on Daufuskie Island named Haigs Point.[4] [see Eleanor K. Strain's "Pope Family Papers" for details of the confiscation of the Squire William Pope Plantations by the Union Forces. All of these Plantations were redeemed by Squire Pope's heirs except the Coggins Point site of the Confederate Fort Walker, which the Federal Government kept for a military reservation until 1927. "The name Fort Walker was changed to Fort Wells after the Union Forces took possession of Hilton Head."]*

Several of the children of James Pope Cole were born at St. Helenaville on St. Helena Island, which is north of Hilton Head Island. In describing St. Helenaville, South Carolina historian Gerhard Spieler in his column, "Low Country History," in the Beaufort Gazette, November 22, 1983 writes:

> St. Helenaville was one of a number of villages to which white plantation families went during hot summer months when sickness was prevalent on coastal plantations. 'The summer was the fashionable and social time here, when the rich people lived together, gave parties, etc.' wrote Wm. C. Garnett, a Massachusetts man, in 1862.
> By 1833, there had been sufficient summer homes constructed on the banks of Village Creek, on the north-eastesrn end of St. Helena Island to warrant the construction of an Episcopal chapel of ease. It was replaced by a new chapel called St. Helenaville Chapel, and was consecrated by Bishop Davis, on July 20, 1859. The second church...was probably Baptist, for there was friendly rivalry between the two denominations on the Island. White Southerners left St. Helena Island after the arrival of the Northern invader in November, 1861. The Southerners were soon replaced by Northern plantation supervisors, missionaries and teachers. For them, too, St. Helenaville and its beach, facing St. Helena Sound and its cooling ocean breezes, became a favorite retreat. [The similarity of the climate of Galveston Island to St. Helenaville Island was possibly one of the reasons that James Pope Cole moved from St. Helenaville and the Beaufort District to Galveston Island. The difference in the degree of civilization was perhaps a reason that the Coles returned to St. Helenaville where several of their children were born.]

In 1862, Union troops evacuated Edisto Island, across the St. Helena Sound and visible from the village. Laura Towne wrote in her diary on July 14, 1862 that Edisto blacks 'collected their fowls and pigs and crowded into the transports...The people were landed at Beaufort, but that town was overcrowded with refugees already, so, after being disembarked on the wharf, and I think staying there a night, they had to take a steamer again and then were taken to St. Helenaville, where they were settled.' Houses were built nearby to shelter them....

In January, 1865 came another influx of black refugees. Laura Towne wrote that 'another great crowd of negroes has come from Sherman's army. They are utterly wretched in circumstances-clothes all town to rags; in some cases naked. A steamboat load came to the village tonight, and they are crowded in the church and into all the people's [sic] houses. The weather turned wet and cold; many of the newcomers, especially the children, sickened and died and were buried nearby.

After the Confederate evacuation of Charleston, early in 1865, the Edisto blacks returned to that island, ready to claim their 'forty acres and a mule.' General Saxton announced his intention to settle Edisto Island with the Georgia refugees as well. When the war ended, almost all of St. Helena Island plantations had been sold to Northerners or, in small parcels, to freedman....

In May, 1866 St. Helenaville was almost destroyed by a tornado. The remaining houses fell into ruins. Today, [1986] only a few old fireplaces, some of tabby, may mark the location of the village.... [In another of his columns, Gerhard Spieler explains that "tabby" was a South Carolina building material formed of lime, made by burning oyster shells, mixed with more oyster shells, sand and water, allowed to harden in wooden forms. Tabby was used extensively in buildings on the sea islands of South Carolina and Georgia during the 18th and early part of the 19th century.][5]

According to Johnathan Daniels' "Sojourner's Scrapbook," published in the Island Packet, July 30, 1981, two roads on the island which run through Squire Pope's land on Hilton Head Island are named for him: Pope Avenue, lined with some of the island's largest houses of worship, and Squire Pope Road, which nearly parallels Skull Creek and leads to Hudson's Seafood Restaurant and Mt. Calvary Baptist Church. Squire Pope "...lived between the time of glory and defeat of the South." [Eleanor K. Strain states that Wayne Edwards and his wife Ceil Edwards built [and later sold] a duplicate of the old Coggins Point home of Squire Pope on Coggins Point.] Daniels continues: "...it is like no other house on Hilton Head; not only are the furnishings either genuine antiques or reproductions, but the construction techniques also were in vogue when Squire Pope built the original house."

Willis Pope, ~~[illegible]~~
~~Mary married [illegible]~~
~~married [illegible]~~
Willis Pope and his wife MARY (GLOVER?) had several children. Among them were John Pope, probably Penia Pope, et al. Such records as have been examined fail to positively identify their children, but they seem certainly to establish the fact the John Pope who married Katherine Hill dau of Henry & Sarah (Cotton) Hill was their son.
Willis Pope, Rev. Soldier was born ca 1754 died 23 December 1795 one year following his death or 1/2 year the following deed:
~~23~~ 23 July 1796 Benjamin Glover and Polly Glover, his wife, of the STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, at Cambridge, to POLLY POPE and her children being the heirs of WILLIS POPE, decd 400 A in Wilkes Co., Georgia for 150# signed: Benjamin Glover

On 16 Dec 1788, Curtis Wellborn sold to Willis Pope, all of Wilkes Co., 500 A. lying on both sides Golden Grove, granted Curtis Wellborn 17 Aug 1785, for 100 #.
Willis Pope died 23 Dec 1795 in Wilkes Co., Georgia. John Pope was the admr. of the Estate. Mary Pope and John Pope gave bond in sum of $10,000.00 . Nathan Bradford, Security.
Appraisement of his estate by: Drury Stovall, James Bridges and W. Gunnells.
He held notes against: Henry Josey, John Kolsy, Benjamin Blake, Nathaniel Bradford, David Gunnells and many others, one of the small notes being for $18.00 by Barnaby Pope. The above by Clerk of Ordinary's office at Washington, Ga.

It seems to be unquestionable that MARY GLOVER of N.C. whose parents Benj. & Mary Glover of Cambridge, S.C., was the wife whom WILLIS POPE married in N.C. before moving to Wilkes Co., Georgia. On my map I do not find a Cambridge, S.C.
The John Freeman above was married to Catherine Carleton, a cousin to my ancestor REBECCA (CARLETON) PURKEAR DAUGHTERTY of Athens, Ga.
John Freeman was the son of HOLMAN FREEMAN, of Wilkes Co., Ga.

POPE ANCESTRY

(Compiled from "Col. Nathaniel Pope and his Descendants," by Rev. G. W. Beale, D. D., in QUARTERLY, XII, 192-196, and memoranda furnished by P. P. Dabney, Portland, Oregon, from the Family Bible of Capt. William Pope, of "Montpelier," Powhatan County, Virginia.)

FIRST GENERATION

Nathaniel Pope, first settler, came from England, settled in Maryland about 1637; removed to Virginia in 1656, commissioned Lieutenant Colonel of Westmoreland Troops, April 4, 1655; will dated May 16, 1659; probated April 26, 1660. He married Lucy ————, (named in his will "Luce.") Issue: Thomas, Nathaniel, Anne, who married Col. John Washington, Margaret, who married William Hardwich.

SECOND GENERATION

Nathaniel Pope, second son of Col. Nathaniel Pope; obtained patent for land on Hollis Creek in 1661, and transferred it to John Watts in 1665; married Mary Sisson (sister to Daniel Sisson, interpreter for the Indians) and, dying early without will, left an only son Nathaniel Pope. Mary Sisson married 2dly ———— Bridges, and becoming a widow again married 3rdly Lewis Nicholas, by whom she had a son Lewis. Having been widowed the third time, she married as her fourth husband, David Whitliffe or Wickliffe, the first Protestant born in the Province of Maryland. By him she had two sons and a daughter, named David, Robert, and Deborah Wickliffe.

THIRD GENERATION

Nathaniel Pope, called in the records Nathaniel, "alias Bridges," because of his mother's second marriage, was a Practitioner of Law, King's Attorney for Westmoreland County, clerk of Stafford County &c. He died in 1719. Married Jane, daughter of Original and Jane (Brooks) Brown and had issue: William, Mary, Lewis, John, Jane, Worden, Elizabeth.

FOURTH GENERATION

John Pope, married his cousin Elizabeth Pope, only daughter and heiress of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Peirce) Pope. This Nathaniel Pope was the son of Thomas Pope and Joanna his wife, and Thomas Pope was the eldest son of Col. Nathaniel Pope, of the first generation. Elizabeth (Peirce) Pope was a daughter of Col. William Peirce and Sarah Underwood his wife. Col. William Pierce was, it is believed, a son of Capt. William Pierce, who sailed with Governor Gates from England in 1609, was captain of the Fort at Jamestown and was for many years one of the Council of State. Sarah Underwood was a daughter of William Underwood, of Rappahannock County (QUARTERLY, X., 276). John Pope and Elizabeth Pope his wife had issue: Nathaniel, John, Henry, William. After John Pope's death his widow married William Wroe.

FIFTH GENERATION

Nathaniel Pope, born in 1729. A deed dated May 20, 1753, made by him and recorded in King George County, Virginia, recites that he was the son of John Pope, and grandson of Nathaniel Pope. He removed to Louisa County where he married Lucy S. Fox, and reared a large family. He died at "Montpelier" Plantation, the home of his son, Capt. William Pope, in Powhatan County, Virginia, November 21, 1806. His wife, Lucy, died July 21, 1789, and both were buried in Louisa County, near the crossing of Thompson and Louisa roads. Their graves are marked by Stones erected and inscribed by their son Capt. William Pope.

Nathaniel Pope and Lucy S. Fox, his wife, had eight children (order of births not known), viz.:

(1) William Pope, generation No. 6 in these notes.

(2) John Pope who settled in Georgia and from whom were descended U. S. Senator Pope Barrow of Georgia and Leroy Pope Walker, Secretary of War, C. S. A.

(3) Col. Nathaniel Pope, killed in duel with ——— Richardson at Taylorsville, Virginia. (See preface to Wirt, Life of Patrick Henry). He married his cousin ——— Duval, daughter of Col. William Duval, and had children, viz.: John Pope, of Fauquier County, Virginia; Charles F. Pope, of Goochland County, Virginia; William D. Pope, of Port Royal, Virginia, Catharine, who married Thomas C. Howard, of Richmond, Virginia.

(4) Lucetta, who married Col. Bell and moved to Kentucky and was grandmother of Gen. S. B. Maxey, United States Senator from Texas.

(5) A daughter, ———, who married Gov. Greenup, of Kentucky.

(6) A daughter, ———, who married William Duval and had a son William Pope Duval, first Governor of Florida, and sketched by Washington Irving under the name of "Ralph Ringwood."

(7) A daughter, ———, who married ——— Hunter and settled in Kentucky.

SIXTH GENERATION

6. William Pope, known as Captain William Pope, born in Louisa County, Virginia, 23 October, 1762, died at his home "Montpelier" in Powhatan County, Virginia, 19 July, 1852. Was Commonwealth's Attorney of Powhatan County. Served in Revolutionary War and in War of 1812. Married Ann Woodson, daughter of Charles Woodson, Jr., and his wife, Nancy, nee Trotter. Had only one child Lucy Ann, born 21 May, 1793. Captain William Pope, his wife Ann Woodson, his daughter Lucy Ann and her husband, Robert Kelso Dabney, were all buried at "Montpelier," Powhatan County, Virginia. St. Memin profile portraits of Captain Pope and his wife Ann and his daughter Lucy Ann are now in the possession of Percy Pope Dabney, of Portland, Oregon. Captain Pope was fond of literature, was a good story teller, and a correspondent and friend of William Wirt.[1]

The following is a copy of resolutions adopted by the County Court of Powhatan County, Virginia, on August 5, 1852, in memory of Captain William Pope:

"A Preamble and Resolutions adopted by a meeting of the members of the Court and its officers and the members of the Bar and other citizens of the County this day held in Testimony of their respect for the memory of Captain William Pope for many years a practitioner at the bar of this court and one of its officers were presented in court and ordered to be recorded and are in these words, to-wit:

"Whereas Captain William Pope, for many years a practitioner at the bar of this court and late the Prosecuting Attorney for the Commonwealth therein, the accomplished gentleman, the faithful friend, the devoted patriot, the social companion, the classic scholar and the pure philanthropist, the man of high toned honor, humanity, generosity and benevolence, departed this life at Montpelier, his residence in this County, on the 19th day of July, 1852, in the 90th year of his age.

"Be it therefore resolved that as a token of our grief for the loss and respect for the memory of our departed friend and beloved companion, William Pope, Esq., we will wear the usual, badge of mourning for thirty days.

"Whereupon the court doth order that one copy of the Preamble and Resolutions be sent by the clerk of this court to the family of the deceased and that another copy be forwarded to the Editors of the Richmond Newspapers with a request that it be published in their respective papers."

SEVENTH GENERATION

7. Lucy Ann Pope, born 21 May, 1793, married Robert Kelso Dabney 24 January, 1827, died 21 March, 1834, and was buried at "Montpelier," Powhatan County, Virginia. Had three children, Charles, who died in infancy, William Pope Dabney and Robert Kelso Dabney. William Pope Dabney was judge of Powhatan and Cumberland Counties; was born at "Montpelier," Powhatan County, 17 July, 1829, married Leila Madison, of Orange County, and died March 5, 1894. Had eight children, among whom is Percy Pope Dabney, now of Portland, Oregon. Robert Kelso Dabney, married Nannie Marye, of Fredericksburg, Virginia, and after the war moved to Sewanee, Tennessee, where he was professor of Metaphysics and died there in 1876, leaving a large family, only two of whom are now living.

in South Carolina (see 1800 Census of Pendleton, p. 91). See Ellsberry for Margaret, daughter of John Luckie of Oglethorpe County, who was born in South Carolina 1777, married 1800 Benjamin Elsberry. Alexander and James Luckie were taxed in Wilkes County 1785 on land in Wilkes and Franklin Counties. Alexander's will (March 20, 1796/June 8, 1796, Oglethorpe County Will Book A, p. 27) named his sons James and William. The will of William Luckie (Sept. 20, 1797/no probate date, Oglethorpe Will Book A, p. 63) named his wife Mary and his children Hezekiah, James and Margaret, and mentioned a debt due him from William Foster Luckie, also his son John (and John's son) his grandson William F. Luckie. The will of John (son of William above) in Oglethorpe (1819/1823, Book B, p. 228) named his children William Foster Luckie, Margaret Elsberry, Susannah McElroy, Mary McElroy, Cynthia Hamilton, Athena, his grandchildren, his brothers Hezekiah and James.

526. Samuel Willingham 220010-21010-7

John Williamham left a will in Lunenburg County, Va., 1751, and the family is found subsequently in Halifax County and Henry County, Va., where Jesse (who signed a 1779 petition to divide Henry and form Franklin County, Va.) and Thomas were on the 1782 tax list. The only other Willingham listed in Virginia in that year, although this is not conclusive, was Gerrald or Jarreld of Halifax County. John was in 1790 in St. Luke's district of Caswell County, N.C., an area that sent several settlers to Jackson County, and several of the family were then in South Carolina. In 1785, Jesse was in Elsberry's Wilkes County, Ga., tax list, and there were a number of marriages in Oglethorpe County dating from 1795. In 1820, Robason (No. 826) also was enumerated in Jackson County; Charles and Jesse were in Madison County; and others were in Baldwin, Lincoln, Jones, Columbia, Morgan and Jasper Counties, where William, F., and T. Willingham were enumerated. Jesse of Madison County, a Revolutionary soldier, in 1827 drew Carroll County land granted Oct. 6, 1827.

527. Juda Welch 100000-00020-0

Benjamin and John Welch were in the 1805 Jackson County lottery. Benjamin, a Revolutionary soldier of Jackson County in 1820 drew land in Early County granted Oct. 5, 1824, but only Juda was enumerated in Jackson County that year. Elsewhere in 1820, James Welch was enumerated in Madison County; Edmond and Nicholas Welsh in Walton County; Nicholas in Habersham County; Michael in Warren County; Asa and William in Washington County; James in Jasper County; John in Morgan County; and others in various counties. Nicholas Welch, Revolutionary veteran, in Newton County 1827 drew Lee County land granted Aug. 18, 1831 and Nicoles in Habersham County 1827 drew Lee County land granted Sept. 27, 1836, and still another veteran, Caleb, was in Jefferson County 1820 and 1827. Benjamin Welch and Michal Hindsman were in the 1785 Wilkes County tax list. Michael Welch from Ireland was granted Wilkes County land in 1774. Benjamin Welch owned land granted to him 1787 which he and his wife Grace sold July 26, 1787. The will of Michael Hindsman (Dec. 28, 1826/March 5, 1827, Wilkes County, Book HH, p. 209; Davidson, Early Records of Georgia, v. 2, p. 137) left land in Early County to his grandson-in-law John Welch. In the records was found a letter dated 1864 from one Anne Welch, Grantville, Ga., (Coweta County) in which she stated in asking for some data that she understood Hindsman left a daughter Judah or Judy. (See pension papers of Benjamin Welch, Ga., R 20446, and others).

531. Doctr. Willis Pope 100020-30100-6

A large family found variously in Pennsylvania, Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina (as early as 1701), South Carolina and Georgia, a number of those in Georgia being from the Halifax Counnty, N.C., area. William Pope obtained headright land in Jackson County in 1802 and 1807. Burwell Pope was granted land Oct. 10, 1774 on Broad River at the corner of the land of Thomas Wootten from North Carolina, who had received a tract the previous year. Burwell was born in North Carolina 1751, married Pricilla Wooten (1755-1806) in North Carolina, served in the Revolution, and died Jan. 9, 1830, leaving a will (Nov. 1, 1799/June 23, 1830, Oglethorpe County, Will Book A, p. 92) in which he mentioned his wife Priscilla and his children, among whom Robert was left his land on the north fork of Oconee in Jackson County; John, Henry A. and Willis Pope were executors. In 1785, Burwell, Henry and Willis Pope all were taxed on land including tracts in Franklin County, part at least of which was in what is now Jackson County. The name Willis is found frequently in the wills and other records of the Popes in Wilkes and Oglethorpe Counties. Willis was the only one enumerated in Jackson in 1820. He or another of the same name married Agnes Hobson.

532. William Bennett 100010-00010-1 (See No. 236)

533. Edward Adams 000100-10100-0 (See No. 238)

534. John McClester 410101-21010-2

James or Joseph McClester was listed in the 1805 Jackson lottery and Joseph (No. 919) also was enumerated in 1820, they being the only ones of that name in Georgia in that year. Probably they were of the McAllester clan.

535. John Hutchinson 010010-30011-0

William Hutcheson or Hutchinson was a resident of Jackson County as early as 1799. James Hutcherson, a Revolutionary soldier, was in Franklin County in 1827, when he drew Lee County land granted Nov. 11, 1837.

536. Elizabeth Parmer 021100-20101-0

(Palmer). Joseph Parmer was in the 1805 Jackson lottery list. Elizabeth Palmer, widow of a Revolutionary soldier, was in Lindsey's district in Jackson in 1827.

539. Harrison Kolb 110010-11100-0

The Kolb family was in Cheraw District, S.C., before appearing in Georgia. Peter's name is found in the Jackson County records by 1799 and in 1805, Peter, Joshua, Jonathan and David were listed for the lottery. In 1820, among others, Martin Kolb was enumerated in Hall County, and a passport was issued for Capt. Martin Kolb of Hall County, April 1, 1820, to go into the Cherokee Nation to prosecute claims. In 1827, the orphans of Jonathan (who left a will in Jackson County) were in Allen's district. Peter, a Revolutionary soldier was of Jones County 1827 when he drew Lee County land granted Jan. 24, 1837. (See pension papers of Peter, S.C., S 31799; Jehu, S.C., Angelina, W 8011, BLWt 38510-160-55; Thomas, S.C., S 38901).

"Erected to the memory of Patrick Moore, a native of Ireland, born in the Parish of Bangor, and County of Down on the 25th of November, 1751, and died in Augusta, August 23, 1802, age 52 years."

"Mrs. Elizabeth McKinne, who died September 15th, 1809. Age 61, was a Miss Pope of North Carolina. Her husband and brothers were active patriots of the American Revolution. One of the descendants of Mrs. McKinne has given the name of her husband as John McKinne. Before the war between the states and for some years after, nearly every family in Summerville, a suburban town of Augusta, could trace relationship by birth or marriage, back to these McKinne ancestors. This family has no male representative of the name now living. Mr. Barna McKinne, a son of Mrs. Elizabeth McKinne, has descendants. - - - - -

"Another daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth McKinne married Thomas Gardner, their descendants are Gardners, Gairdners, Posters, Reeds, Smiths, etc.

"Mrs. Elizabeth McKinne's name appears at the head of the list, in the "Church Manual" when there were only fourteen members of the Presbyterian Church in Augusta and a large number of her descendants are of the same faith, but many are Episcopalians, and one is the wife of a Bishop."

Dear Mrs. Turner:

I'm sorry I have waited so long to acknowledge your letters, but that delay has not meant that I have not been working on your McKinney records. I've been very rushed finishing a large job for another person, too, but with that off my mind I believe I will be able to finish your work in short order. I wanted to be able to give you something definite and an idea of the cost when I wrote again.

Your McKinneys are descendants through Barnaby McKinney, younger son of Michael Macquinney. This Barnaby and his wife, Mary (Exum)Ricks McKinney, had ten children, several of whom immigrated to Georgia about twenty years before the Revolution. What we are after is proof of which of his sons was the father of your Moses McKinney, and I'm convinced I'm on the right track. I've searched the Warren County, Columbia County and Lincoln County(also Wilkes) for you, and until I have better proof I do not think those in Lincoln County were the children of your Moses. One needs to understand how these Georgia Counties were formed and when to picture much of this. The original Old Wilkes County was created, as a Parish, in 1773 from the first Ceded Lands from the Indians. In 1780 it was made Wilkes County, and included land from Little River almost to the Tugaloo, and west to the Oconee. What is now Warren County was created from a small portion of Old Wilkes and a small portion of Columbia(which was created from Old Richmond) in 1796. Lincoln County was cre ted from Wilkes in 1796.

John McKinney, Barnaby McKinney, Jr., and their brother-in-law Joseph Lane(husband of Patience) all came to Georgia together. Joseph Lane later became Major in the Revolution and was on the staff of Colonel John McIntosh.

Harris McKinney and his family removed from Warren County before his son Patrick married Minerva Moore. I believe I have your Moore and Harris records now, and I have the Ivy records. I can get these for you by making a trip to Monticello and I also wish to search in Hancock, also. I recently worked these records but it was before I had your work, and I believe I'll find a great deal we're looking for there.

Either John or Barnaby, Jr. was the father of Moses, and I believe I can find this either in Richmond or Columbia. I have found Barnaby in Columbia but want to look further.

If your Moses came to Georgia with Drury Mims, Drury Harris, etc., then he must have sojourned in South Carolina for awhile, which I do not believe. I have the Drury Mims record as well as Drury Harris' record. Also Henry and Absolem.

If your Moses came from Virginia to Georgia then he is not a descendant of Col. Barnaby McKinney, Sr., son of Michael Macquinnay. He could possibly be the son of Michael McKinney, the son of John McKinney, the son of Michael Macquinnay. There are incidences of families moving to Georgia before the Revolution, returning to their former homes during the conflict, and returning to Georgia after the Revolution. But all this is supposition, and the only thing to do is go to the source and prove it out one way or another.

I'll get what I can for you.

I would like very much to have the Massengill line. It is in a family history, of which I do not have a copy here. I have not worked out my line farther back than my grandparents, although we have a great many Massengale and Massengill records in our collections. It is something I want to do, however. My grandfather was William Henry Massengill, and he was born in Georgia. He married Antoinnett Ritch in Scott Co., Miss. She was the daughter of James Jefferson Ritch(Rich) and Frances Ann Harris. Would you like to have the "early" Harris data? There are several branches, you know, ~~but I am enclosing one.~~

You know, I'm sure, that Col. Barnaby McKinney ,Sr., son of Michael Macquinney, became one of the most prominent and wealthy and influential men of North Carolina. He was appointed a Justice by the Lord Proprietors, July 1722. He moved to North Carolina from Isle of Wight County, Va., about 1721, and settled near Caledonia(then part of Chowan, later Bertie, then Edgecombe Co.) He died there in 1740. (Born, Isle of Wight Co., Va., about 1673.) I can give you references for all these records. The $100 was for payment of proof showing complete connections on your McKinney line from Michael to you.

Sincerely yours,

Frances Corry Lane

Frances Corry Lane

If your ancestors came to Georgia with Henry Ellis, Drew Smith, etc., they may have acquired in South Carolina the manila, which is not believed. I have the Henry Ellis record as well as my Smith records. Also Henry and Absalom.

If your lineage goes from Virginia to Georgia then he is not a descendant of Col. Barnaby Bullington, Sr., son of Richard Bullington, he could possibly be the son of Richard Bullington, the son of John Bullington, the son of Richard Bullington. There is a Richard of Hanover, Virginia, moving to Georgia before the Revolutionary Wars to Wilkes County, Georgia, joining the militia, and returning to Hanover after the Revolution. But all this is speculation, and the only thing to do is go to the source and prove it out one way or another.

I'll get much I can for you.

I really like very much to have the Bullington line. It is a family history, of which I do not have a copy now. I have not worked out my line further than my grandparents, although we have a gt. gt. aunt Hermenia and Bassmouth records in our collection. It is something I must do so, however. My grandfather was William Henry Bassmouth, and he was born in Georgia. He married Antoinette Hitch in Texas in. Who was the daughter of James Jefferson Hitch(Hitch) and Frances Ann Barrett. Would you like to have the "early" Hitch data? There are several branches, you know, and a few rebels.

You know, I'm sure, that Col. Barnaby Bullington, Sr., son of Richard Bullington, became one of the most prominent and wealthy and influential men of Burke County. He was appointed a justice by the Lord Pro Prietors, July 1720. He moved to South Carolina from Isle of Wight County, Va., about 1722, and settled near Ninety-Six when part of Orange, later Berkley, then Saxagamma Co.) He died there in 1750. (Born, Isle of Wight Co., Va., about 1671.) I can give you references for all these records. The $120 was for payment of proof showing complete correspondence on your Bullington line from Barnaby to me.

Sincerely yours,

Frances Gary Hamm

Dear Mrs. Turner:

Evidently my letter of September 30 was very confusing for which I apologize. I should have asked you how much money you were willing to spend to complete your McKinney lines instead of arbitrarily setting a fee. Since we have some lines in common and since I'm enjoying your correspondence, I shall help you as much as I can, and you can pay me what you think it is worth.

Let me explain something about myself. My mother-in-law, Mrs. Julian C. Lane, is an internationally recognized genealogist and historian, and it is through her that I became interested in the work, and under her that I do my work now. She had been inactive in the work for several years (working with the War Department) but is now taking it up again. Her records collected over a period of 35 years, are incomparably good. They comprise a private collection of records which cannot be found in any library or equalled by any other private collection we know of. These are available to me. Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolina records are her speciality. She recently made one of her frequent research trips to Washington during whichshe collected a number of records for me. She takes only big jobs, turning the little ones over to me while I learned the work. Now that I have been in it for ten years I feel I'm gradually emerging from the amateur class. I have just completed a $1000 job of which I am proud because I did it from start to finish "on my own", and the person for whom I worked is very pleased. In fact, she wishes me to go on further for her. Mother Lane has written several books, and is widely known for the type work she does. I don't have the complete Lane genealogy here, but am getting it from her. Patience, the daughter of Col. Barnaby McKinney, Sr. and the sister of Barnaby, Jr., and John, married Joseph Lane, and they moved to Georgia before the Revolution. I wrote you that as I see it the proof you need is through which of his sons did Moses McKinney, Sr., descend from Col. Barnaby McKinney. Mrs. Lane does not believe the Moses McKinney found in Virginia in 1782 is your same Moses. Perhaps it is, but where is the proof? Now, I have found John and Barnaby, Jr., and Barnabie, or Barnaba, III in Georgia, and as I wrote you I believe I know where to go to find the connection.

coincidence to assume that the second reference is to four different people of the same names, in both cases listed in the same order—an order which is also somewhat atypical if one considers this a family.

With regard to the duplicated four individuals, it is probable that an investigation of relevant county and parish records would point to this as simply another instance of the reuse of the same names already claimed on a previous occasion. Over and above fraudulent reuse, already well-documented, the language of the patents demonstrates that tracts claimed on a basis of headrights, when subsequently repatented by others, could be regranted using the original rights in some instances and new rights in others. When Colonel Henry Bisshop in 1646 repatented land in James City County which had previously been taken by Captain William Powell, it was assigned to Bisshop by Sir William Berkeley "with the rights thereunto belonging."[30] Similarly, Lieutenant Colonel Robert Abrall's repatent, in June 1657, of land formerly owned by John Hansford describes the property as "retaken by new rights."[31]

That an immigrant's arrival ordinarily will predate his mention as a headright by many months or even years cannot be stressed too strongly. Colonel Augustin Warner, in an example of candor rare in these records, provides a look behind the scenes of a system inherently prone to error. In his patent for land in Rappahannock and New Kent counties dated 8 October 1672, he claims 202 headrights. But finding the tally insufficient for the claim, Warner completes the list of transports with an apologetic note: "twelve Irishmen but I have not their names in memory but some of them are alive."[32] Among the regrettably few instances in which importations are thought to have been proved under oath, Fielding Lewis on 21 October 1779 recorded the names of sixty Irish brought into the colony, providing solid evidence that the date of record of an importation may follow by as much as a decade the date of entry into the colony:

> Fielding Lewis Esqr. came into Court and made Oath that in October 1769 he imported into this State Eighty two Indented Servants from Ireland in the Brigg Fanny [under] Capt. Richard Taylor and that he also imported Thirty eight Servants in the same Brigg from the same place the May following.[33]

If the lapse between an immigrant's arrival and the use of his or her name as a headright involves a considerable period of time, researchers should bear in mind that the immigrant's name will probably appear in another record prior to being listed as a right. When Barneby MacQuinny patented 490 acres in Isle of Wight County, 16 June 1714, he claimed among his importation rights "Ralph Mare, John Welsh, Philip Castelly, and Martin Hennice."[34] However, some thirteen years prior to the date of the MacQuinny patent, Major [Arthur] Allen of Surry County, Virginia, claimed among his tithables for the year 1701 "Ralph Mare, John Welch, Phillip Casselly, [and] Martin Henesey."[35] If these are not the same four individuals, the coincidence is truly a remarkable one; and no less remarkable is the fact that, in the two documents, the four names appear in exactly the same sequence. The mathematical probability of this occurring by accident must be very small—so small, in fact, that one is tempted to believe the names were derived from the tithable list itself.

Finally, in dealing with patents, it is incumbent upon the careful researcher to treat this record group in as critical a way as any other, being alert to the provenance of each particular record examined and willing to search out and consider any version antecedent to the one in hand. The venerable reputation of the patents must not lead to treating them as if they were brought down from the Mount with the Ten Commandments. The information embodied in these records is preserved to us in several forms, and these forms have come down to us as the work of many individuals. The abstracts published by Mrs. Nugent and, more recently, by the Magazine of Virginia Genealogy are exactly what their name implies, partial copies—copies prepared from a recorded version preserved in the land-patent books by clerks working in that office in Jamestown and Williamsburg. This recorded version is in all likelihood itself a copy transcribed by clerks and given to the patentee. In preparing the original, the clerks referred to yet-earlier instruments, the warrants and surveys. To suppose that all these versions are in any sense duplicates of one another—that the value of any one of them is equal to the sum of information contained in them all—will not be borne out by actual comparison. For example: an early patent for land in James City County, awarded to Richard Kemp on 1 August 1636, mentions three adjacent landowners, Thomas Hill, Richard Tree, and Alexander Stomer. But Stomer, who is probably the same of that name claimed as a right by Jackson and Kingsmill on 26 September 1638, is not in Nugent's abstract.[36]

Given the loss of the crown warrants and surveys, researchers should bear in mind the possibility, even if remote, that an original patent of their instrument may have survived and attempt to locate it. While some originals are probably still in private hands, surviving examples that are now part of various archival collections are certainly the most readily accessible. These extant originals will all have their individual value, not only as the earliest text in most instances but also by virtue of the reassignments and powers of attorney they sometimes bear on their reverse sides. The patent to Henry Benson for 1,071 acres in Rappahannock County, 5 November 1673, and that to Christopher Hursk for 105 acres in Botetourt County, 23 November 1789—both now in the collection of the Virginia Historical Society—are good examples of originals bearing important endorsements which did not become part of their recorded versions. This society alone has twenty-four seventeenth-century originals dating from March 1620 to October 1696, most in photocopy from various collections, plus sixty-seven other colonial patents dating from May 1700 through the end of the colonial period.[37]

The headright system as generally conducted in Virginia, particularly in the seventeenth century, requires researchers to view its records with a great deal of skepticism. Abuses are well documented by officials who observed the system in operation, and a careful reading of the records themselves will turn up countless entries that arouse profound suspicion. Otherwise carefully compiled family histories sometimes prove inadequate only to the challenge of dealing realistically with references to names in headright lists. The following text raises several points which may be legitimately argued more than one way.

> William Clopton, Gent., son of the Rev. William Clopton of Eastwood, County Essex, England, and his wife Elizabeth Sutcliffe, was "aged about thirty" according to his own deposition in 1685, which would place his birth at about 1655. Royal Patent land records reveal when he arrived in the Colony of Virginia. A review of the patent records also show[s] why some of his descendants have believed more than one William Clopton came to Virginia. In fact, all of the records are referring to the same William Clopton. He made at least three trips back and forth between England and Virginia. Each time his trip was sponsored by a "transporter" who received Royal Land Patents for transporting colonists over from England.
> The earliest record we have of William Clopton in Virginia is 18 Feb. 1673. Royal Patent Book No. 6, Page 502. Mr. Thomas Hall and John Pigg were granted 3833 acres on the north side of Mataponi River, New Kent County, for the transport of 77 persons. William Clopton was on the passenger list.
> He returned to England shortly afterward, because on 5 Nov. 1763, we again see his name on a passenger list: By Royal Patent Alexander Robbins received 650 acres in Rappahanock County for the transport of William Clopton and twelve others, Patent Book 6, page 493.
> Finally, on 15 Oct. 1698 Andrew Spratling received 624 acres in New Kent County for transporting thirteen persons from England to Virginia. On the list is William Clopton.[38]

Whether the William Clopton references in the patents cited above actually represent the same person is not a question that can be answered without appeal to additional records; as matters stand in the passage quoted, nothing has been proved. There may have been, and probably there was, an individual in the colony as early as 1673 named William Clopton—if indeed there was not more than one. But there is no clue given here as to where he, or they, came from. Certainly there is no assurance that England was that place. The three voyages have to be taken as pure supposition, with rather unlikely consequences in this instance. The date of the patent to Hall and Pigg of 3,833 acres (the recorded version says 3,831) on the north (northeast to be exact) side of the Mattaponi River is transcribed as 18 February 1673. But in the patent book itself, the date 18 February 1673/74 is given. It is therefore the second in sequence of the three dates, not the first. The chronology, as adjusted, now obliges the researcher to accept a round-trip from Virginia to England in the dead of winter—between 5 November 1673 and 18 February 1674—in approximately three months. Voyages of this duration were not conventional for the period in question, and the theory that such a voyage actually took place requires additional confirmation. Further, any study of Cloptons using patents as a point of departure, and continuing the scheme of analysis that led to the theory of the three voyages, must ultimately explain the appearance of a William Clopton as a headright twice on 15 October 1698, both times in the company of "Eliz. Cole, Wm. Squire, and John Parsons" (see the patents to Andrew Spratling and Benjamin Buckley), and his appearance a third time on 6 June 1699, again in the company of "Eliza. Cole, Wm. Squire, and John Parsons" (see patent to Leigh and Harrison).[39]

Whether the William Clopton references in the patents cited above actually represent the same person is not a question that can be answered without appeal to additional records, as matters stand in the passage quoted, nothing has been proved. There may have been, and probably there was, an individual in the colony as early as 1673 named William Clopton—if indeed there was not more than one. But there is no clue given here as to where he, or they, came from. Certainly there is no assurance that England was that place. The three voyages have to be taken as pure supposition, with rather unlikely conjecture in this instance. The date of the patent to Hall and Pigg of 3,833 acres (the recorded version says 3,831) on the north (mistaken to be exact) side of the Chickahominy River is transcribed as 18 February 1673. But in the patent book itself, the date, 18 February 1673 (74 is given, it is therefore the second in sequence of the three patents, not the first. The chronology, as adjusted, now makes the reckoning to accord a round-trip from Virginia to England in the dead of winter—between 5 November 1673 and 18 February 1674—in approximately three months. Voyages of this duration were not conventional for the period in question, and the theory that such a voyage actually took place requires additional confirmation. Further, any study of Clopton using patents as a point of departure and continuing the scheme of analysis that led to the theory of the three voyages, must ultimately explain the appearances of a William Clopton as a headright twice on 15 October 1666, both times in the company of "Eliz. Cole, Wm. Squire, and John Parrone" (see the patents in Adams Sorrling and Benjamin Buckley), and his appearance a third time on 9 June 1667, again in the company of "Eliz. Cole, Wm. Squire, and John Parrone" (see patent in Leigh and Harrison).

None of the objections set forth in this paper are meant to imply that there were no legitimate headrights, that importations were never properly substantiated and accurately recorded, and that the names which are appended to the recorded patents are in every case such objects of suspicion that no reputable genealogist dare introduce them as evidence. On the contrary, they can and ought to be cited in every case where the genealogist can show that they form part of a surviving network of facts which, taken together, support a particular view as to when specific individuals moved to Virginia. Used with respect for their limitations, the Virginia land patents—one of the great historical treasures of our American heritage—can contribute immeasurably to our understanding of an era that is not always rich in primary sources.

On 6 June 1699, patentee Joseph Perry was credited with "3 rights paid for to Mr. Auditor Byrd as by certificate." See Nugent, Cavaliers and Pioneers, III:26. After the creation of the state land office in 1779, this agency adopted the term grant for the same instrument. The proprietary office had always employed the latter term.

29. According to one synthesis of current scholarship on the subject of mortality in the early Southern colonies: "Death rates . . . in Maryland and Virginia . . . remained grim through the end of the seventeenth century. [Edmund S.] Morgan indicates that while survival rates among immigrants between 1625 and 1640 were higher than during 1607 to 1624, they were probably still below 50 percent. According to Walsh and Menard, life expectation at birth for white males born in Maryland during the second half of the seventeenth century was between 21.6 and 29.8 years." See Robert W. THE MCKINNIE FAMILY

Gen. I - Michael Macquinney in his will, which was witnessed by Jeremiah Exum left property to son John, wife Elizabeth and "young son Barnaby". His will is dated April 15 1686, and is recorded in Isle of Wight Co., Va., in Deed Bk 2 p 254. Wm. and Mary Quart, Ser 1 Vol 27 has an article on "Three Early Landwoners of Isle of Wight County Virginia: the three being Jeremiah Exum, Michael Mackquinney, William Pope.

Some authorities give the father of Michael as "Sir Barnaby McKinney" one of the Lords of the Isles. The name is spelled Mackinney, Mackinning, Machinven, Mackquinney. Later it is spelled Mckinne, Mackinney, McKinnie. The historical spelling is usually McKinnie. It is said the McKinnes were of the Clan McKinnon which means "Beloved Son" (see the Clans, Sects and Regiments of the Scottish Highlanders, by Frank Adams).

Gen. II - Barnabas McKinne (b. c1673 - d.1740, Edgecombe Co., N.C.), md. 1st Mary ?, 2nd md. Mary "Exum" Ricks Murphy after 1715. He was her third husband, she being twice widowed and the daughter of Judge Jeremiah Exum.

There have been many lineages published concerning descendants of Col. Barnaby McKinnie that have the Exum-Lawrence lines in their lineages. The following records indicate that Col. Barnaby McKinnie was married twice, 1st to Mary ?, 2nd to Mary "Exum" Ricks Murphy, widow of Jacob Ricks and of William Murphy Jr. 1. Isle of Wight deed Bk. I, p.341 - Barnaby McKinnie and wife Mary sign deed 9 Dec.1701.

Jeremiah Lawrence, 3. Exum Scott, 4. Richard Exum Outland. The ages of Col. Barnaby's children indicate that most if not all of these children were of the first marriage.

Barnaby McKinnie's Will is dated 1737 (Colonial Records of NC, Vol. V 25, p.975.) He petitioned Va. Assembly in 1702 for permission to build a grist mill in I.ofW. Co., later Southampton Co. Afterward moved to Edgecombe Co., N.C.

CARY GENEALOGY

"The first of the name on record was Adam Carye, of Carye Castle in Devon, England, Esq., who lived in 1208 and married Amy, daughter of Sir William Trewit, Knight. The Devonshire Herald's Visitations of 1620 gives fourteen generations of his descendants. His grandson's great-great-grandson was Sir John Carye, Knight, Chief Baron of the Exchequer in the reign of King Henry IV, who was banished into Ireland for political offenses. His son, Sir Robert Carye was a favorite of King Henry V. 'In his time came out of Aragon a lusty gentleman of England, and challenged to do feites of army with any English gentleman without exception. This Robert Carye hearing thereof, made suite forthwith to the Prince, that he might answer the challenge...At the time and day prefixed both parties met and did perform sundrie feites of arms, but in the end Robert did give the foils and overthrow the Aragon knight, disarmed and spoiled him. This so well pleased the Prince that he received him into great favor, caused him to be restored to the most part of his father's lands and willed him, also for a perpetual memorie of his

POPE RECORDS

From Hills of Wilkes Co., Ga.

On letter, 22 Apr.1910, by Dr. Geo. L. Pope, Louisville, Ky. to Mr. James Martin, Philadelphia, Pa., we find: "Gen'l John Pope and another member of the family made a trip to England some ago...they had a copy of the Coat of Arms granted to Sir Thomas Pope, guardian and custodian of Elizabeth, afterwards Queen Elizabeth. The motto on it, "Miki, Tibi", meaning justice "To me and to you".

"The arms are: two chevrons gules, a canton azure. Crest: a cubit arm erect, habited gules, cuffed argent,holding in the hand proper a pair of scales or motto: Mihi Tibi. The arms granted to Sir Thomas: Party per pale or and azure, on a chevron between three gryphon's heads erased fleurs-de-lis all counterchanged. Crest: Two gryphons erased. (from a newspaper article by Frances M. Smith - Eleanor Lexington")

"One of the Privy Council of Henry VI was Thomas Pope... Sir Thomas Pope resided with Queen Elizabeth during her minority at Hatfield House, and ...was authorized by her to decline the King of Sweden's offer of marriage... remembered for his endowment of Trinity College, where he is buried....the legend engraved upon his tombstone..."Whatever you wish untold tell no man".

"Robert Pargiter, of Grylworth, will, 4 Feb.1557. My son William and Anne, my wife, shall have my farm, ...which I hold by indenture of Sir Thomas Pope, Knight... Lawrence Washington my son-in-law to be the supervisor of this my last will and testament. A century later we find the Pope and Washington families transplanted in Va., having the same family names, socially intimate and intermarrying.

March 11, 1655, William Pope patented 200 acres in Westmoreland Co., Va. (Grt. Bk. 4, p.31) The compiler thinks this is an error.

Oct.8, 1656, William Pope received grant for 190 acres in Nancemond Co., adjoining Capt. Thos. Godwin's land. (Grt. Book 4, p.89)

30 Oct.1662, William Pope received grant for 200 acres in Nansemond Co. (Grt. Bk. 4, p.406)

25 July 1665, Will Pope grant for 950 acres in Isle of Wight Co. (Grt. Bk. 5, p.114)

1 Feb.1706/07, Son William sells 200 of the 950 above acres in Isle of Wight Co. (Isle of Wight Book 1704-1715, p.48)

William Pope was probably a brother of Nathaniel Pope who appears frequently in early Va. records. He revisited England in the 1690's, and died in Nansemond Co. very soon after returning home. Reference to this visit and his death appear in the Nansemond County records.

POPE FAMILY

"The following records were copied from a pamphlet, "The Name and Family of Pope", compiled by "The Media Research Company" of Washington, D. C.: "The name of Pope is believed to have been of Latin origin and to have originally meant 'father'. It is thought probable that the name was taken into England about the time of the Roman occupation of Britain, in the year 465 A. D., or before. Certainly there was a town called Popeham (home of Pope) prior to the Norman invasion of England in 1066 . . . Families of Pope were early situated in the Counties of Oxford, Sussex, Kent, Devon, Dorset, York, Herts, Salop, Suffolk, Cornwall, and Northampton, and in the city of London. They were for the most part of the landed gentry and yeomanry of Great Britain . . . Of the Oxfordshire line of the family, Thomas Pope was living in the year 1287 and is believed to have been the ancestor of John Pope, who was married in the early part of the 15th. Century to Grace Simpson, by whom he had issue William, who was the father of John & Thomas, of whom the first was the father of a son named William, who was created Earl of Downe and Baron of Beltirbet, Ireland. This William was the father of Thomas and William of whom the second had a son named Thomas who succeeded to the family titles and estates after the death of his uncle without male issue but left only female heirs himself . . . There is evidence that the family of the famous poet of the early eighteenth century, Alexander Pope, was of the same stock as that given above. His immediate ancestors, however, resided in London . . . Of the Suffolk County branch of the family, Ralph Pope was living at the beginning of the fourteenth century and was the father of at least one son, Sir William Pope, and probably others, including the John Pope, who was living in Suffolk in 1367. In the following century Thomas and Robert Pope were the heads of families in that country. Of the Sussex line, Thomas Pope of the early fifteenth century had issue by his wife, Jane Weston, of John, who was the father of Edmund, who had Nicholas, who had Thomas and John. Of these last-mentioned sons, Thomas was the father of Ralph, who died about 1621, leaving several sons. Although it is not definitely known in every case from which of the many lines of the family in England the early American emigrants of the name were descended, it is generally believed that most, if not all, of the

Popes derive from a common European ancestor, of a remote period. Probably the first Pope to come to America was Thomas, who came to Plymouth, Mass., about the year 1630. In 1637 he married Ann Fallowell, by whom he had at least one child, named Hannah. By his 2nd. wife Sarah Jenney, whom he married in 1646, he had issue of Seth, Susannah, Sarah, Thomas, Joanna, Isaac, John and Patience. John Pope who came from Devonshire, Eng. about 1633, made his home at Dorchester, Mass. He was the father by his wife Jane of John, Patience, Nathan, and possibly others. By a 2nd. wife named Alice he is believed to have had another son named Thomas. Some family historians assert that he was accompanied to America by his brothers Thomas and Joshua . . . In the year 1634, one Walter Pope was living at Charlestown, Mass. It is believed that he was the father of several children . . . Joseph Pope who appears to have been the son of Robert Pope of Yorkshire, England, came to Salem, Mass. in 1634. He was followed shortly by his brother Richard, who probably stayed only a short time and then returned to England. Joseph was the father by his wife Gertrude of eight children, Demaris, Hannah (died in infancy), Hannah, George, Joseph, Benjamin, Samuel, and Enos. Another early settler was Ephraim Pope of Boston, who was the father by his wife Anne of at least two children, Elizabeth and Ephraim and probably others. Another John Pope resided at Dorchester at an early date and had issue by his first wife of four sons, Thomas, William, Ebenezer and John. By his 2nd. wife Margaret he had further issue of Margaret, Susannah, Thankful, Ralph, Alice, Jane, and Joseph. The greater number of the Southern families of the name are believed to be descended from Nathaniel Pope, who emigrated to Virginia about the year 1664. He was the father of Nathaniel, Thomas and Ann, many of the descendants of whom made their homes in Kentucky and Georgia. Others of the name who were living in America at early dates but whose records are not complete were Thomas of Suffield, in 1687; John of Springfield in 1678; and Thomas of Virginia and Kentucky, in the latter part of the Eighteenth Century . . . Among the Popes who served in the war of the Revolution were Lieutenant Colonel Charles, of Delaware; Colonel Edward of Massachusetts; Lieut. Col. Frederick, of Massachusetts; and Colonel John of Virginia. Joseph, John, Thomas, Ralph, Ephraim, Walter, William, Samuel and Isaac are some of the Christian names most favored by the family for its male progeny. One of the best known of the several coats of Arms which have been granted at various times to the Pope family is described as follows. (Burke, General Armory, 1884): Arms . . . 'Or two chevrons gules, on a canton of the second a mullet of the first.' Crest . . . 'On a chapeau gules, turned up ermine, an heraldic tiger statant argent, tufted, maned, collared, ringed, and lined or.' Bibliography: C. H. Pope. The Pope Family 1888; Anderson. (See page 472 of Book #9) Note: See (later on) will of Wm. Pope of Edgecombe Co. N. C. probated Feb. Court 1749. He mentioned "the plantation in Isle of Wight County Virginia where I formerly lived." The earliest record that the author has found of a Pope in North Carolina was that of "Richard Pope versus John Philpot, Precinct Court May 1693, Perquimans Precinct N. C." (See pages 386 to 389 of Vol. I Colonial Records of N. C.) Rent Roll of land in Albemarle Co. N. C. before 1700 included Richard Pope, Pasquotank, 314 acres. (See pages 301 to 304 of Vol. 1 #2 North Carolina Register by Hathaway.) A very important member of the Pope family in N. C. was Simon Pope, who was elected a Member of Committee of Safety of Pitt County N. C. June 23, 1775. Also John Pags, (which probably should be Pope). See pages 37 and 494 of Vol. X Colonial Records of N. C. by Saunders.

The branch of Pope family, to which the author has given most study, lived in Halifax County, N. C., at one time, and later lived in Martin County, which was created in 1774 partly from Halifax. Since Halifax County was created from Edgecombe County, the Popes who were in Halifax must have been descended from the Edgecombe family. The following "Daughters of American Colonists" records are for a branch of Pope family which lived in Edgecombe, and some of whom later went to Georgia. The McKinne and Exum families in following records were also Edgecombe families. "Lineage Book, Natl. Society D. A. C. Vol. IV", pages 305-306: "Mrs. Lucile Zellner Banks, born Forsyth Ga. wife of Elbert White Banks (#3887). Descendant of Barnaby McKinnie, John Martin, Jeremiah Exum, John White and John Pope . . . 3. Barnaby McKinnie was a landed proprietor, justice, 1722, Commissioners of the peace, 1724; associate judge, 1725, and member of the Gen. Assembly of N. C., 1735. John Martin (1596-1673) of Va. was Burgess for Lower Norfolk County 1651, and Church Warden 1645. Jeremia Exum (d. 1720) was a landed proprietor, justice, Surry Co. Va. 1681, and Isle of Wight Co. 1693-94. John White (1600-70) of Va. was a member of the House of Burgesses, 1641. John Pope (d. 1745) was a landed proprietor, Church Warden, Member of the General Assembly of N. C. 1742-45, and justice of the peace for Edgecombe Precinct, Chowan County, 1739." (Note: Edgecombe Precinct was in Bertie County, N. C. See page 412 Vol. 2, N. C. Reg. by Hathaway).

John Pope of Edgecombe Co. N. C. received a patent for land Feb. 15, 1737 (1738). See page 328 of Vol. IV Colonial Records of N. C. by Saunders. (Note: William Bennett of Edgecombe received land at same date. See Pope Family in Va. for George Pope and Robert Bennett who were living on James Island Va. in 1623.) John Pope was on the Commission of the Peace, Edgecombe Co. N. C. March 6, 1738. (Pages 345-346 of Vol. IV Colonial Records of N. C.) He was a member of the Colonial Assembly from Edgecombe N. C. Feb. 1743, 1744. (Pages 728 of Vol. IV Colonial Records of N. C.), also a member of Assembly April 9, 1745, and Justice of the Peace, June 28, 1746. (Page 766 of Vol. IV Colonial Records of N. C., and pages 975 976 Vol. V. Colonial Records of N. C., for "John Pope late Sheriff of Edgecombe Co. N. C.") John Pope married Mourning McKinne daughter of Barnaby McKinne Sr. She was sister to Patience McKinne who married Joseph Lane; and whose eldest son Col. Joel Lane became a very wealthy and influential man and the founder of Raleigh, N. C. (See page 470 of Vol. I #2 North Carolina Hist. and Genealogical Register by Hathaway.) John Pope, aforesaid of Edgecombe Co. N. C. proved his rights (6 whites—20 blacks) Nov. 20, 1744. (See pages 705-706 of Vol. IV Colonial Records of N. C.)

Jacob Pope of Edgecombe, land grant, May 5, 1742. See page 616 of Vol. IV Colonial Records of N. C. He was, no doubt the son of Wm. Pope of Edgecombe, whose will was probated at Feb. Court 1749. (See his will later on.) Sampson Pope of Edgecombe Co. N. C. received a land patent April 11, 1745. (Vol. IV page 766)

The following are all the "Heads of Families" of name of Pope, who lived in Edgecombe and Halifax Counties, N. C. in 1790. None lived in Martin Co. then. 1790 Census (from Vol. XXVI State Records of N. C. by Clark):

Wills by Olds page _____: "Jacob Pope, will 1772 Edgecombe Co. N. C. Jane, Elijah, and Pilgrim." N. C. Wills by Olds: "Elijah Pope will, Halifax Co. N. C. 1798, Henry, Jacob, Upham, William, Elijah, Patience, Penelope, Sallie, Hardy, and Charlotte. (See record of Elijah Pope of Halifax Co. N. C., later on.) "George Pope was an early Baptist minister of the 'Kehukee Association', and Thomas Pope was one of the Charter Members of Kehukee Association formed in 1765, Halifax County N. C., on Kehukee Creek." (See Appendix to Vol. V Colonial Records of N. C. page 1173.) Note: Both George and Thomas must have died or moved away prior to 1790 Census.

The following Pope (and Waters) records were furnished, (except where other references are given), by the late Miss Anna Pope of Williamston, North Carolina, Martin County, Joseph Pope of Halifax County N. C. (relative of Elijah) moved to Texas. Elijah Pope of Halifax County, married Susan Eleanor (Smithwick) Ross or Rawls, widow, whose first husband was from Washington, North Carolina. Elijah Pope and wife moved from Halifax Co. to Martin Co. N. C. in 1857, and she later moved to Lonoke, Hunt Co. Texas where she died at age of 75 years. (She had a first cousin Joel Smithwick.) Elijah Pope, aforesaid (who married the widow Ross or Rawls), must have been born after 1790 Census. The name Elijah indicates that he was a descendant of Elijah Pope, son of Jacob Pope of will 1772 in Edgecombe County. (See will previously given.) Jacob Pope of will 1772 was son of Wm. Pope of Edgecombe County, N. C. (will probated Feb. Court 1749) who was formerly of Isle of Wight County, Virginia. (Note that Wm. Pope mentioned grandsons Wm., Richard sons of Jacob, while they are not mentioned in will of Jacob, as previously given from Olds' Wills. The author has learned that Olds' wills cannot be depended on to give all the legatees, and has seen cases where he listed only a small per cent of them.) William Pope of will 1749 Edgecombe Co. N. C. had received land in Isle of Wight Co. Va. in 1715. See "Pope Family of England, Massachusetts, and Virginia". He was presumably a son of Col. Nathaniel Pope born 1610, emigrant from England to Virginia.

Elijah Pope aforesaid of Halifax County, N. C. married Susan Eleanor (Smithwick) Ross or Rawls a widow who died in Hunt Co. Texas June 2, 1901. She was, it seems, daughter of John G. Smithwick whose will was probated in Martin Co. N. C. Jan. Term of Court 1841; and granddaughter of Edmondson Edward Smithwick of will 1801 Martin Co. N. C., whose wife was Eleanor. (See "Smithwick Family".) After Elijah Pope's death his widow removed to Texas and married a Smith. (See a petition of her daughter-in-law later on, as proof.) Elijah Pope and wife Susan Eleanor Smithwick Ross (or Rawls) had four sons and one daughter, (who died at age of three months). The sons were, viz: (1) John Edward Pope I born July 9, 1850 died Jan. ——, 1880; married May 5, 1870 Elizabeth Hardy Waters who was born Oct. 21, 1851 died July 4, 1938 in Williamston, N. C. (c) Joe (name furnished by his cousin Anna Pope). (d) Henry (name furnished by his first cousin Anna Pope). Note: When Adrian Pope's widow petitioned relative to property in Williamston, N. C., she did not mention Joe and Henry. (3) Joshua A. Pope moved to Texas and died there. He married Katharine Capps and had children: (a) Jacob (b) John L. (c) Georgiana. (Note: Miss Anna Pope named two other children of Joshua Pope, viz: Sallie and Billy.) (4) Jacob Pope died when 21 years of age; never married.

Smith and left surviving him as his only heirs at law Ida S. Pope age 19, Louallie Pope age 5 both of whom are daughters. The children and only heirs of Joshua S. Pope deceased are Jacob Pope aged 19, John L. Pope aged 17 and Georgiania Pope aged 13.

CONCERNING POPES "Pope Fam. Records" comp. by Mrs. Wm. Irvine Sims

Colonel Nathaniel Pope appears in MD 1636-37 m with no issue. Bef. 1648 he demanded 700 acres for transporting himself, wife and 5 men servants.

Sept 1654- he obtained land grant in Westmoreland Co., VA as did, William Pope in Mar 1655. This compiler (Mrs. Sims), believes that Col. Nathaniel and Thomas were brothers, being sons/Thomas and that William was son/Thomas. Col.Nath. Named eldest son Thomas not of age 1659, who in turn named his eldest son,Thomas. These facts make it probable that Thomas was the father of Nathaniel.

In England, we find will of Robert Pargiter of Grglworth in Co./Northampton 4 Feb 1557; p31 jan 1558.
'My Son William and Anne my wife, shall have my farm in Shattiswell in Co. of Warwick which I hold by indenture of Sir Thomas Pope, Knight. I ordain and make Lawrence Washington, my son-in-law to be the supervisor of my last will and testament....and for his labor and pains taken therein, 40 shillings.

If the families of Pope and Washington were not previously intimate, the acquaintances arising from this business relation afterwards ripened by degrees through social intercourse and intermarriage betwee families.

For we see that Col. John Washington m dau of Col. Nathanial Pope and named a son Lawrence Washington.

Thomas Pope d in Martins Hundred 1622-23. Probably had sons Nathaniel and Thomas who m in Isle of Wight d 1684 and had:

MACQUENNEY - MCKENNIE

Michael Macquenney was the first of his name in Virginia. The earliest records found of him is that of his will dated April 15, 1686 in which he designates himself as "Michael Makquenney of the Western Branch in Isle of Wight county, planter". He bequeathed to wife Elizabeth "plantation I now live upon" during her life then to his young son" BARNABY. He gave to eldest son JOHN the rest of his land on the northwest side of the Forest Spring Branch provided he settle upon it. Probated Aug. 9,1686 by Robert Cooper, Jeremiah Exum, John Moore (D.B. 2, p.254) Other records pertaining to Michael were evidently lost in the burning of Nansemond records.

Elizabeth Mackquenney married secondly Thomas Reeves for on February 10, 1701, Thomas Reeves aged about 62 years deposed that Barnaby Mackquenney's land escheated and was entered upon by his brother John. Elizabeth Reeves, aged 60, also testified to the same. (D.B. 1-1688-1704, p.339-40) Barnaby Mackquenney was not of age at the time his brother entered the escheat. John Mackenney was granted a patent for 450 acres which lay in Nansemond Oct. 20, 1697. (BK 9, p 98)

John[2] MacKenney, the elder, died about 1710 leaving a son Michael MacKenney who with his wife Rose on April 1710 sold to Richard Exum of Nansemond 200 acres of the said 450 acres of the land granted my father John MacKenney adjoining Jeremiah Exum (Bk 1704-1715 -p 140). (See later)

Barnaby[2] Macquenney on Sept. 10, 1703 and Mary his wife sold to Richard Exum of Isle of Wight all of the land given by my father Michael Mackquenney's will, being part of an escheat Patent granted to his brother John who died before he could execute a deed (I of W D.B. I-340).

Barnaby McKennie received grants in Isle of Wight for 5648 acres for the transportation of 109 persons between 1702 and 1714 which he and his wife sold in 55 deeds executed before they moved to North Carolina. His wife Mary was the widow of Jacob Ricks and the daughter of Judge Jeremiah and Ann Exum. (17 W 60) He moved to what is now Edgecombe county about 1721 settling near Caledonia. He was a Justice of Peace, Judge of the General Court 1727, and member of the Assembly 1735 (Id). His will was dated Aug. 31, 1737.

Children:

I. Barnaby Jr. married Mary, daughter of William Brown, and died in 1736. He gave to daughter PATIENCE McKinnie his dwelling plantation; dau. MARY MCKINNIE 250 acres. If daus. die to Barnaby Lane, son of Joseph Lane; to wife MARY five negroes; to Joseph Lane a plantation; brother Robert McKinnie two mares; to James Howell a tract of land; to Nathaniel Cooper a black mare; to cousin John Lane a horse; Loving wife and Joseph Lane exrs. (Grimes Abstracts)

II. William[3] McKinnie died 1739 before his father Barnaby[2]. In a deed-codicil to his will (Halifax Deed Bk. 1, pp 312-313) Barnaby[2] McKinnie said: "I, Barnaby McKinnie of Edgecombe county by my will bearing date of the 30th day of August (1739) did bequeath unto my son William McKinnie and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten and to their heirs forever a tract of land containing two hundred acres being the plantation whereon my son William then lived who having since departed this life therefor to prevent any objection that may be urged against the descent of the said land as by the bequest in my said will intended know that I, Barnaby McKinnie of Edgecombe County in the province of North Carolina, Esqr. out of natural love and affection which I have and do bear to my grandson Barnaby McKinnie, son and heir-at-law of my son William McKinnie decd and for and in consideration of the sum of five shillings to me in hand paid, do by these presents give grant alien enforce and confirm to him the said land".

Barnaby, only son of William McKinnie, died unmarried in 1761. His will is dated Nov. 9, 1761. Following the preamble, it says "also for preventing Dispute which probably might arise concerning the Distribution of such Estate as it hath pleased God to bestow upon me do hereby Give and Bequeath the tract of land and plantation whereon I now Live to my Nephew William Coupland and I also Give and Bequeath to sd William Coupland all my Negro Slaves (Segar and Sarah excepted) also all my other Estate of Every Kind Soever to the sd William But if sd William should die before he arrives to Lawful Age then*to his Brother Thomas Coupland and in case that he die before he arrives to Lawful age then the sd Estate To be Divided Between the Sisters, Daughters of Joseph Coupland*". The two slaves undisposed of were to be sold and the proceeds of sale to be used to pay his debts. Nicholas Long and Joel Lane, executors. Witnesses: Sam'l Edwards, John Moore, Thomas Hall (Halifax Will Bk. 1, p. 47)

(Bk. 3, p 28: Will of William Coupland. Dau. Mary Coupland; sister Charlotte Coupland; god-son McKinne Long. Exrs. Nicholas Long of N.C. and Wilkinson Godwin of Va. Wit.: Chas Pasteur, I. Tillery, C. Saunders. Jan. 4, 1782)

William McKinnie had two children: Barnaby, and Mourning who married Joseph Coupland. Barnaby d. unmar.

III. John[3], d. 1739. John[3] was probably one of the younger sons of Barnaby[2] McKinne. He married before Dec. 30, 1736, when William Parrish's estate was divided between Mary McKinnie, his wife, and Sarah? (Angelina) Parish, daughter of William Parrish. Angelina Parrish married Barnaby Pope, son of John and Mourning McKinne Pope. John and Mary McKinne had five children:

1. Barnaby, born av. 1738-39. He was of age in 1760 when he made a deed to a tract of land inherited from his father. In that deed he called himself "Barnaby McKinne, the Younger". Part of the land was granted to Emanuel Rogers, decd., and from him descended to his daughters, Elizabeth and Mary, and by them together with their husbands, John Hubbard and Montford Eelbeck, gentlemen, conveyed by deed 1742.

   Barnaby, the younger, made his will March 15,1861; probated June Court 1761; Wife Anne; said wife's son, Isaac Ricks, and her daughter, Mary Ricks; sister Martha McKinne; sister Patience McKinne. Executors wife and Robert Ricks. (Halifax Will Bk. 1, p 31)

   After death of Barnaby McKinne, Ann, his wife, married Seth Prior. 1762- Nicholas Long and wife, Mary and others sued Robert Ricks, Seth Prior and his wife, executors of Barnaby McKinne. (Col. Records of N.C., V. 6, p 759)
2. Mary McKinne married Nicholas Long before 1762. She was not mentioned in the will of her brother, Barnaby.
3. Patience McKinne married John Geddy (Gaddy) before 1767, when the land of her deceased brother, Barnaby, was divided among his three sisters.
4. Martha McKinne was still a minor in 1767, when she received through her guardian, Joseph Montfort, one-third of the land of her deceased brother, Barnaby (Division Tripartite, Halifax Bk. 10, p. 28). She married Charles Pasteur.
5. John McKinne, born after his father's death. He evidently died very young as he is not mentioned in any of the numerous guardianship proceedings, nor in his brother's will and in the division of his brother's lands. In 1751, his father, John McKinne of Edgecombe Co., gave negroes to his children, Barnaby, Mary, Patience, and Martha. (Halifax Bk. 4, p. 152)

John[3] McKinne made his will in 1753. Montford Eelbeck was one of the executors, and the will was witnessed by Montford and Mary Eelbeck. In 1757, Montford Eulbeck, Benjamin Hardy and Wm. Richmond were appointed to audit the accounts of Barna Pope, guardian of the orphans of John McKinney.

Mary McKinne, wife of John, made her will in 1754, naming her daughter, Angeliny Pope; sons John and Barnaby; daus. Mary, Patience, and Martha McKinne.

In 1758, Barnaby[4] McKinne, son of William[3] McKinne, was guardian of Barnaby the younger, son of John McKinne.

Of John McKinne's two sons, John died in infancy and Barnaby left no children. This seems to be the end of the male of Barnaby[2] McKinne.

IV. Richard[3], m. Mary Kinchen and died in 1755 without issue. His widow married Blake Baker.

V. Robert[3], m. Martha. On Nov. 10, 1748, he and wife Martha sold land on which they were living to William Speight. In 1762 he was living in Granville County. Unless he left sons it seems no one can claim descent from Barnaby McKinne through the male line.

VI. Ann, m. William Murphy
VII. Mourning, m. John Pope (See later)
VIII. Patience, m. Joseph Lane
IX. Christian, m. William Hurst
X. Mary Jane, m. John Brown, son of William Brown.

Mourning[3] McKinnie, dau. of Barnaby I, married John Pope who was born in Isle of Wight County, Va., and moved to Bertie, N.C., and later to Edgecombe where he died.

John Pope was a Justice of the Peace for Edgecombe May 16, 1732, Commissioner of the Peace March 6, 1739, Member of the General Assembly from July 22, 1743 until his death. (17C 63)

JOHN MACKQUINNEY

ELDER SON OF MICHAEL AND ELIZABETH MACQUINNEY

by Miss Ray Barnett

John Mackquinney was born between 1660 and 1665. He was dead before 1701 when Elizabeth and Thomas Reeves made affidavits concerning his redemption of his brother Barnaby's land. He was a resident of Nansemond Co., Va., as shown by the escheat patent granted to him in 1697. The name of his wife is unknown. That they were the parents of more than one child is proved by the bond for title from Barnaby Mackquinney to Richard Exum in 1703.

I. Michael Mackquinney, probably the oldest son, was born about 1687; married Rose--------. They were probably residents of Nansemond Co. Their deed, 1710, to Richard Exum says "in Isle of Wight", not "of Isle of Wight." Nothing is known of their children, but some of the unidentified McKinnes of N.C. may be descendants of Michael and Rose.
II. Benjamin McKinnie, was living in Edgecombe Co., N.C., 1720/1, as evidenced by deed from Nath'l Holley and wife conveying 50 acres southside of Morattuck River and south of Michael's Meadows, March 16, 1720/1. Benjamin was of age in 1720/1, and thus was born by 1699, or perhaps several years earlier.

In 1734, Benjamin McKinnie (no doubt son of above Benjamin) "for divers good causes me hereunto moving and in consideration of the sum of 50 pounds paid by my uncle Barnaby McKinnie 50 acres the aforesaid parcel of land being a part of a survey of land made for William Brown and by him lapsed and since is become due to the aforesaid Barnaby McKinnie by virtue of a lapsed patent granted for the whold survey bearing date of 30th of July, 1720, which land was formerly sold by William Brown to Nathaniel Holly to Benjamin McKinnie. Wit.: Isaac Ricks, George Roberson (Edgecombe Co. Bk. 1, p. 32).

In 1743/4 Benjamin McKinnie executed a deed conveying this same 50 acres to Richard McKinnie "for good causes land, sold by Benjamin McKinnie to Col. Barnaby McKinne bearing date 1734 but since it was judged that the said Benjamin McKinne was not of age to dispose of the said lands" this deed is to confirm the right of sale of this land to Richard McKinne being part of William Brown's lapsed patent. (Halifax Bk. 5, p. 353)

Col. Barnaby McKinne, called "my uncle Barnaby McKinne" in the deed, was the great-uncle of young Benjamin.

In 1741, Benjamin McKinnie received a grant of 740 acres, Edgecombe Co. (Col. Recs. N.C. Bk. 4, p. 592)

In 1741, Benjamin McKinnie sold to William Kinchen 740 acres in Edgecombe Co., 100 acres of old patent lands purchased of John McKinnie (Halifax Bk. 1, p. 239), and 640 acres to Kanakouary Swamp to Stevens' line and down the swamp to Stevens' corner to red oak in William Foresters' line, the 640 acres granted by patent to Benjamin McKinnie April 2, 1741 (See description of land given by John McKinnie to his cousins William and Mary Brown, and the gift to George Short).

In 1753, Benjamin McKinney was living in Prince Frederick Winyaw Parish, S.C., where his son, Michael, 2 years old, and daughter, Christian, 7 months old, were baptized.

III. John McKenney. There can be little doubt that he was the son of John and grandson of Michael Mackquinney. He was married and the father of two children, John and Rachel, in 1715- thus born about 1690.

Will of Samuel Payne late of North Carolina to loving friend, John McKenney, 22 bbls. of Pitch now in Nansemond, also 22 bbls. pitch lying and to be delivered at the Northwest landing; to John McKenney, son of John, one young horse; to Rachel, daughter of John McKenny, pewter basin to be delivered by my executors in North Carolina; to James and John Caroon 640 acres of land lying by Indian Island and all remainder of estate. James and John Caroon executors. Wit.: Thomas Crocker, Katherine Jones, James Tamrath. Jan. 7, 1715; Apr. 10, 1716. Proven in Coratuck Prec.

It is probable that the John McKenny mentioned in above will was the John McKinnie of early records of Bertie and Edgecombe Precincts, and that these records did n not refer to John, son of Col. Barnaby McKinne. In 1723/25 grant to Barnabas McKinne Jr., 180 acres in Bertie Precinct on South side Morratuck River beginning at a gum in John McKinne's corner. The foregoing is the first record of a grant to Barnaby Jr., that I have found. It is generally accepted that Barnaby Jr. was the oldest son of Col. Barnaby, and that John was probably one of the youngest. If that be true, then John was too young to have received a grant in 1723 or 1725. Also, in a number of instances John, son of Col. Barnaby McKinne, is referred to as "John McKinne Jr".

On January 29, 1741/2, Mary McKinnie, probably wife of William McKinnie of Nansemond who held 200 acres in Nansemond in 1704 and who predeceased her, of Edgecombe Co., N.C., made a deed of gift to her three sons: Matthew, William, and Michael, all under 18 years of age. Witnesses were John Crowell and Joseph Lane, indicating a close association between Mary and the family of Barnaby Sr. Mary's husband is unknown, although some McKinne descendants claim he was William, son of Barnaby Sr. North Carolina wills and deeds refute this claim. William McKinne Sr. of Wayne County, N.C. was the son of Mary McKinnie of the above deed of gift.

William McKinne Sr. was born about 1725 in Edgecombe County, N.C.; died 1793, date of his will Jan. 26, 1793, Wayne County, N.C.; married ------Grimes? William McKinne Sr. was appointed 2d Major of the Minute Men of Dobbs Co., N.C. April 22, 1776. Member of N.C. Provincial Congress, from Dobbs Co., which met at Halifax April 4, 1776. 1774-"The first assemblage independent of Royal authority of their representatives in N.C., occurred at Newbern, on Aug. 25, 1784". Member from Dobbs County, William McKinne.

CHAPTER XV.

An Act to dock the entail of certain lands therein mentioned, vesting the fee simple thereof in Blake Baker, and for settling other lands, in lieu thereof to the same uses.

I. Whereas, Col. THE CASE FAMILY OF CONNECTICUT AND LONG ISLAND

By George E. McCracken, Ph.D., F.A.S.G.
Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa

Though their English origin is unknown, sufficient evidence has been found to make clear that some sort of relationship existed between Henry Case of Hartford and Southold, John Case of Maspeth Kills, Windsor and Simsbury, Richard Case of Hartford, Thomas Case and William Case, both of Newtown, Long Island. A court record connects John with Henry, a power of attorney with Thomas, while Thomas's will shows that William was his brother. As for Richard, both geographical proximity and nomenclature connect him with John. The five men were probably brothers, though we cannot be sure.

A. Henry Case

At a quarterly court held at Hartford, Conn., on 6 Sept. 1655 [Particular Court, transcribed in Collections of the Conn. Hist. Society, 22:152], in the matter of Jno Case vs John Knott "for deteyning Henery Case his Servant," we learn that the "Courte seeth no Cause to remove Hen Case from John Knott." This is the earliest record of John Case in Hartford County and the only record of Henry Case there. It would seem improbable that John Case could have appeared in a matter of this kind, had he not been related to Henry, but this was some years before the birth of John Case's eldest known child, so John could hardly have been Henry's father. It is curious, however, that John Case named no son Henry, and so far as we are aware, the name Henry does not appear in the earlier generations of the Simsbury family.

A Henry Case, this one or another, was granted a lot at Southold, Long Island, on 15 Dec. 1658 [Southold Town Records, 1:74], that is, a little more than three years after Henry Case was still indentured to John Knott (or Nott), who was a resident of Wethersfield in the Hartford jurisdiction. In the same year, also, the Southold Henry Case married Martha Corwin, only daughter of Matthias Corwin, and when Henry Case died ca. 1665, she married, second, Thomas Hutchinson.

JOHN[2] PRENTICE OF NEW LONDON, CONN. AND HIS TWO NICHOLS WIVES

Note: After long correspondence with Mr. Clarence A. Torrey of Boston, Mass., on the subject of John[2] Prentice and his wives, Mr. Torrey placed his Prentice files in my hands to prepare an article on the subject. Some information, important but not complete or entirely accurate, appeared in 1950 and 1951 in The Hartford Times, and we are indebted to Mrs. Bertha L. Benn for what there was published. I have checked a number of documentary sources, and have contributed data on the Nichols family, and am responsible for the following account, with special acknowledgment to Mr. Torrey.— Donald Lines Jacobus

John[2] Prentice [Prentiss, Prentis, etc.], son of Valentine and Alice (———) Prentice, born in England, came from Roxbury, Mass., to New London, Conn. He married first, about 1651, Hester[3] [Esther] Nichols, born about 1635, died at New London, 6 Jan. 1679/80, daughter of John[2] Nichols of Fairfield, Conn., by his unknown first wife; she was mother of his first eight children. He married second, probably by 1683, Esther[3] Nichols, born at Stratford, Conn., 18 Feb. 1652/3, daughter of Caleb[2] and Anne (Ward) Nichols of Stratford and Woodbury, Conn., and his first wife's first cousin although much younger; she was mother of his ninth child, Valentine, and presumably died at his birth or shortly after. He married third, by contract dated 12 June 1685 [New London Deeds, 4:51], Rebecca Parker, the jointure referring to any children he may have by her. John Prentice apparently died late in 1691. Rebecca was mother of his tenth child, Ralph.

On the 15th of the 12th month 1689 [15 Feb. 1689/90] John Prentice, Sr., conveyed to his son Stephen the farm John dwells on, excepting what he gave to "my now wife Rebeccah" during widowhood; Stephen at the decease of his father is to pay to each of his four sisters £10 apiece; if John die and leave children under 14, Stephen is to allow them £10 a year for maintenance until 14, and if Stephen die, his widow is to carry out the agreement. Notation is made that the £10 that belongs to Mercy Prentice dec'd is to be paid to Hester Gallup, "my daughter." Acknowledged 29 Oct. 1691. [New London Deeds, 4:59; the notation referring to Mercy's death was probably made after the original document was drawn up.]

The births of nine of the children by the first wife are all found recorded in the Arnold copy and Barbour Index (at the State Library) of the New London Vital Records; Mercy's birth is missing, but apparently was seen by Miss Caulkins and is given in her History, and Mercy is of course proved by the above conveyance.

The children of John Prentice by his first wife are entered as of John and Hester, and we shall discuss her identity, and also that of the second wife, after listing the children. Before doing so, evidence will be given that the third wife Rebecca was a daughter of Ralph and Susanna (Keeney) Parker of New London. William Keeney conveyed to his son-in-law Ralph Parker, 31 Jan. 1665 [New London Deeds, 3:196]. Mrs. Susanah Parker testified 30 Sept. 1662, aged about 34, perhaps an understatement; and the same date, Marye Parker, aged about 19, testified [New London Town Records 1647-1666, p. 75]. The Parker children were the above Mary, born about 1643, who married William Condy of Boston and left no issue; Susannah, called daughter of Ralph when she married (first) 27 Mar. 1665, Thomas Foster, and married second, John Fox; Jonathan, eldest son, without issue; Mehitabel, who married first, William Pendall and second, a Stratton of East Hampton, L.I.; Thomas, of Boston, who seems to have left a son Thomas; Rebecca, who married in 1685 John Prentice; Hannah, who had a child by Thomas Mitchell of New London in 1695 and later married Richard Wiat; and Ralph, born 29 Aug. 1670, survived his father but left no issue.

Proof of these statements will be found in many New London deeds [see vol. 4, pp. 51, 70; vol. 5, pp. 21, 31, 81, 88, 95, 106, 114; vol. 6, pp. 27, 29, 48]. In particular, see Vol. 5, p. 132; a deed from his brother Jonathan to Ralph Parker of land originally their father's, confirmed by Susana Foster, Hannah Parker, Rebecca Prentis, and Mehetabell Pendall; also, vol. 6, p. 268, a deed in 1712 from John Keeney, in return for a quitclaim from John Fox, to Fox's wife Susanah, Mehetibl Straton, Richard Wyat and Hannah his wife, and Jonathan Prentis in behalf of Ralph Prentis. See also papers in the 1710 settlement of the estate of Ralph Parker (who had died in 1683), where it is stated that Jonathan Parker, eldest son, and his sister Rebecca, who both administered, had died several years before, and the heirs are named as the daughters Mrs. Susana Fox, Mrs. Mehetabell Stratton and Mrs. Hannah Wiat, and the grandsons Thomas Parker and Ralph Prentts [The American Genealogist, 14:17].

Child of John Prentice by second wife:

xi. Valentine, b. say 1683-4; d. at Woodbury, Conn., in 1756, testate; m. Abigail Walker, bp. 20 Sept. 1691, dau. of Deacon Zechariah and Elizabeth (Minor) Walker. His birth is not recorded, and there is a gap in the baptisms from 12 Aug. 1683 to 6 Dec. 1691. In the final settlement of the Prentice estate in 1706, Valentine comes in for a share; Valentine of Woodbury gave a quitclaim to the executor, "my loving brother, Capt. John Prentis" (New London Deeds, 6:105).

Child of John Prentice by third wife:

xii. Ralph, infirm and maintained until death. Note above that he shared in the estate of his grandfather, Ralph Parker, and that in 1712 Jonathan Prentice was acting in his behalf. He d. 14 Mar. 1720/1 ae. 35.

We come now to a consideration of the identity of Hester, the first wife of John Prentice. There are two important pieces of evidence, both in the New London County Court Records. The first is in vol. 2, p. 52, and is dated probably 2 May 1669; the year date looks somewhat like 1667, but the last figure may be a '9' upon at the top, and the date of recording is plainly 10 June 1669. The record reads in part:

"Elizabeth Fuller of the Towne of Plimouth in the Jurisdiction of Plimouth....sometimes the wife of Thomas Bowein Late of Rehoboth in the Jurisdiction Aforesd Cooper Deceased And Samuell ffuller of the Towne of Plimoth Aforesd doe hereby make ordaine frame And Constitute our well beLoued Brother in Lawe John Prentice of new London Jn Newengland Blacksmith our true And Lawfull Atornye....[reference is made to the will of Bowein dated 11 Apr. 1663, which gave two parcels of land at New London to Elizabeth, and the document is a power of attorney to Prentice to sell this land]. Witnesses: Thomass Cushman, Bridgett ffuller.

The other record is in vol. 7, p. 105, the date heading being on a previous page, "County Courte held at N: London June: 6:th 1693"; several entries intervene, and then we read: "Mr Ben: Adam Gallop plaintiff Contra Mrs Rebekah Prentice Widow and Executrixs to the Estate of John Prentice deseased Deffen[dant] in an action of ye Case in the behalfe of his wife for neglecting to Deliuer A bed and beding & houshold stuffe being A Legacy belongeing to Hes[ter] Gallop Giuen to her by her Aunte Hannah Nicholls Deceasced to the Damage of twenty pound" Further notation: "This Acction Withdrawne in Courte"

Since Hester (Prentice) Gallup had an aunt Hannah Nichols, and we have found no record to indicate that her father John Prentice had a sister Hannah who married a Nichols, it seems likely that Hannah was her maternal aunt, from which it would follow that her own mother was born Hester Nichols.

Turning to Nichols families, we find [Jacobus, Families of Old Fairfield, 1:434-5] that John[2] Nichols (Francis[1]) died at Fairfield in 1655 when the inventory of his estate was taken, and the probate mentions his widow Grace and children Hester, Elizabeth, Hannah, Isaac, Sarah, and John. Grace married second, Richard Perry, and on 4 June 1659, as "Grace Perie now of fairfield widow," she conveyed to her son Isaac, now apprenticed with Isaac Nichols of Stratford [the boy's uncle], and "my three other children," Samuel, John, and Sarah. Samuel, unless accidentally omitted in the probate, was probably posthumous and born 1655. From these records, it seems likely that Hester, Elizabeth and Hannah were children of John Nichols by a former wife.

Here then we have a Hester Nichols, suitable for the wife of John Prentice, with a sister Hannah Nichols, the maiden lady who left her few household belongings to her favorite niece Hester (Prentice) Gallup, and another sister Elizabeth, suitable for the wife of Thomas Bowen and Samuel Fuller, who called John Prentice her brother-in-law. In addition to this, John Nichols, half-brother of these sisters, died in King Philip's War in 1676, and the inventory of his estate at Fairfield refers to his interest in cattle in New London. It was never understood why he should have owned or had an interest in cattle in New London, but this is readily explained if he went as a lad to live with his much older sister Hester and her husband, John Prentice, in New London.

Bradstreet's Journal, under date of 6 Jan. 1679/80, gives the death of "Goodwife Prentice aged about 44 or 40" and adds, "She was a pious woman and of a very sweet nature, an excellent neighbor." It would seem that she was at least 44, as that would make her 17 when her first child was born in 1652. It would place her birth date as about 1635. No special study of the Bowen and Fuller families has been made, but Elizabeth is said to have been born 1637 and died 1713; by her second husband, Samuel[2] Fuller (Dr. Samuel[1] of the Mayflower), whose second wife she was, she is said to have had children Elizabeth, Hannah, and Isaac. It will be seen that Hannah could have been named for her unmarried sister, Hannah Nichols, and she had both a half-brother and an uncle named Isaac Nichols. We have already seen that Hester (Nichols) Prentice named her four daughters Hester, Mercy, Hannah, and Elizabeth. Omitting Mercy, these were the names of the three Nichols girls.

The evidence seems to us sufficient for the conclusions stated. Oddly enough, it can be proved that the second wife of John Prentice was an Esther[3] Nichols, daughter of Caleb[2] of Woodbury. This leads to the surmise that there had been visits back and forth between Prentice and his first Nichols wife and the family of her uncle Caleb. The evidence is as follows, but for better understanding we preface it with a statement of the family of Caleb Nichols.

Caleb[2] Nichols, probably the youngest son of Francis[1], settled in Stratford, Conn., where his first eleven children were born (all but one recorded); became an original settler in Woodbury, and had two more children recorded in the Woodbury Church records, but only the youngest after the actual removal of the settlers and church to Woodbury. He married Anne Ward, daughter of Andrew and Hester (Sherman) Ward, who died at Woodbury 23 July 1718 "in ye 98th yeare of her age as is supposed on good grounds"—nevertheless, this is a gross exaggeration, as it would make her around 30 when the first of her thirteen children was born, and around 55 at the birth of the youngest. Caleb Nichols had died in 1690.

Abstract of the will of Caleb Nichols, Sr., of Woodbury, dated 14 Aug. 1690, proved 8 Nov. 1690: 1st, to eldest son Samuel Nichols five shillings beyond what I have given him already. 2nd, to my eldest son's child Josiah Nichols, 10 acres on Grassy Hill in Woodbury. 3rd, all land at Woodbury to be divided in three parts equally and two parts, including the homestead I now live upon, to my wife and son John Nichols, and a third of movables to "my well beloued wife Ann Nicolce" at her own disposal; she shall have the lands while a widow and if not enough for her maintenance, "my son John shall supplye his mother," John to have the two-thirds of lands after his mother's decease, and if she marry again "and bury yt husband" and needs to return, John shall receive her and "Let her haue which Roome shee pleaseth in ye dwelling house." 4th, to son Caleb the other third part of land at Woodbury. 5th, to son

Abraham, 10 acres out of my 32 acres at Coram Hill near Paugasit [Derby], with provisions in case "my wife & Childe [John] be droue from Woodbery [in Indian warfare] & are willing to Liue at stratford." 6th, debts to be paid, and I give to "my three daughters Mary Anna & Pheby" the rest of land and movables; if not enough to make my three daughters' portions half as big as my three sons, then wife and sons to make up the deficit, but if more than enough, then the "ouer plush" to return to the sons. 7th, "J Giue & bequeath vnto my sons in law Moses Wheeler John Prentis William Martin five shilling A peice if demanded it being in full of my daughters portions." Friends Mr. Zachariah Walker, Capt. John Minor and John Sherman to be overseers. The inventory was sworn to 28 Jan. 1690/1 by "Hannah Nicolce ye widow Relict of Caleb Nicolce." A memorandum refers to accommodations [of land] "y^t was somtimes Andrue Nicolces," this referring to the son Andrew who had died unmarried before his father, but evidently had reached adult age. [Fairfield Probate, 4:57.]

The three older daughters had clearly received their portions at marriage or before the will was made, and the will proves that one of them had married John Prentice.

An agreement to distribute the Estate of Caleb Nickolls late of Woodberry deceased was made 28 May 1702, which reads "each Daughter shall receive" etc., and was signed by Abraham Nickolls, Caleb Nickolls, John Nickolls, Joseph Hull in behalf of his wife Mary, Phebe Knell ye wife of Jsaak Knell, and Anna Nickolls ye Widd^o [Woodbury Deeds, 2:143]. This of course relates to the will, so the three daughters who had received their portions and the son of the eldest son Samuel who had received his portion are not mentioned.

The son Caleb Nichols, Jr., of Woodbury, made a will 6 Mar. 1706, in which he gave £7 to his "Beloued sister Hannah Nickols for her Care Trouble and tendance of me in the time of my being under the docters hands," and the residue up to £30 equally between "my Eldest Brother Abraham Nickols and my sister Annah Nickolce," and any surplus of estate over £30 to be equally divided between his brothers and sisters, Abraham Nickolls, John Nickolls, Abegaile Martaine, Mary Hull, Annah Nickolce, and Phebe Knell. [Fairfield Probate, 5:93.]

On 30 Mar. 1706, Abraham Nickols of Stratford sold to Valentine Prentice of Woodbury, certain "lands of my brother Caleb Nickols"; and on 19 Jan. 1709/10, Abraham Nickols of Stratford, Executor "to my Brother Caleb Nickols late of Woodbery deceast," for £50 deeds to Valentine Prentice. [Woodbury Deeds, 2:14, 106.]

In the Estate of Sergt. John Nichols, the Widow

Jane appeared 22 June 1727, and the Court appointed her "and her Cousin Valentine Prentice" to administer. The date of John's death was stated as 24 Apr. 1727, the inventory was taken 29 June 1727 and was exhibited 18 July 1727 by the widow Jane and by Volentine Prentice. The names and ages of the four children of John Nichols were stated. [Woodbury Probate Records, 1:76-8; Probate Files, #3286.]

That Valentine Prentice's mother was the second wife of John Prentice and daughter of Caleb Nichols of Woodbury is shown by several facts. John Prentice had married a daughter of Caleb Nichols, as proved by the latter's will; Valentine Prentice came to Woodbury to live where he had Nichols relatives, and he bought land from Abraham Nichols, son of Caleb. The actual proof is in the description of Valentine as "cousin" of his uncle John Nichols's widow when he was appointed co-administrator of the estate. The term cousin was then often used in the sense of nephew, and Valentine was nephew of Jane Nichols's deceased husband.

Caleb Nichols had only two daughters available as the one who married John Prentice for his second wife. These were Anne, born 5 Mar. 1651/2, and Esther, born 18 Feb. 1652/3. Inasmuch as Caleb named a younger daughter Hannah in 1667, whose name in his own will and in that of his son Caleb is rendered Anna and Annah, it is to be concluded that the Anne born 1651/2 died young. It is also significant that Valentine Prentice named his eldest daughter Esther, and when she died young, he bestowed that name on his next daughter. He had two more daughters, but named neither of them Anna or Hannah.

We conclude that Esther Nichols, daughter of Caleb, was the second wife of John Prentice of New London, and that she was mother of his son Valentine.

HINTS ON INDEXING

By Donald Lines Jacobus, M.A., F.A.S.G.

American families of early colonial descent have now multiplied to such an extent, and printing costs have risen so high, that it has become a major expense, even for people of considerable wealth, to publish a complete family history, running perhaps to two or three large volumes. More and more we see partial or sectional genealogies, tracing to date the descendants of an ancestor of the fourth, fifth or even the sixth American generation. Such listings will increase in value through the revolving years, as they preserve data otherwise lost to posterity.

Most of these partial genealogies are prepared by amateurs, and although occasionally printed by letterpress, are often put out by a suitable modern duplicating process such as mimeographing or lithoprinting. The latter is to be preferred, since the size of the printed page can be reduced and the book or booklet made more manageable in size. Most of the compilers of such publications arrange the data in understandable fashion, usually following one of the standard forms generally accepted for genealogical listing. They differ greatly as to an index, some providing none at all, some only a partial index, others a well arranged and reasonably complete index.

Very few libraries of a public character with a large genealogical section have the funds to purchase all the works of this sort which have been appearing in recent years. In general, librarians look askance at matriculating at Oxford, but took no degree. Although heir apparent to a large patrimony, he resolved to enter the ministry. Having scruples regarding subscription—he was even then a Puritan,—he declined a pastoral charge and contented himself with a lectureship. He was for some time connected with the church of St. Clement Danes, London, but not as rector. Forced to leave this post, he retired into the country and ended his days, occupied in writing. The parish register of Husbands Bosworth has this record: "Anno 1591. Henricus Smith, theologus, filius Erasmi Smyth, armigeri sepult fuit 4to die Julii." He was a very eloquent and persuasive preacher and on this account was called "silver tongued Smith." Cooper (op. cit. vol. 2, p. 105) gives a list of his works. He was unmarried and left no descendants. He had a brother, Sir Roger Smith (1571-1655), who by his second wife, Anna Goodman, had a son Erasmus (1611-1691). Sir Roger Smith was of Husbands Bosworth and Edmondthorp, co. Leicester. Also descended from this family was Henry Smith, the regicide (1620-1668?). This Henry was the only son of Henry Smith of Witheote. His father died in 1623 and he became the ward of the king. He matriculated at Oxford; was one of the signers of the death warrant of Charles I; left no son. It is not easy to construct a pedigree from these data, but taken as they are, they seem to exclude the possibility that Rev. Henry Smith of Wethersfield was a descendant of this family of Smiths.

MARRIAGES IN ENGLAND OF EARLY AMERICAN IMMIGRANTS

By Clarence Almon Torrey, Ph.B., of Dorchester, Mass.

The following records are presented for the light they shed on the origin of six New England settlers and the names of their wives, but without claiming that proof of identity is absolutely established with regard to each one of the six settlers. The identity in each case is believed to be almost certain, with the possible exception of Stephen Kinsley.

(1) William Cowdrey, High Wycombe.

Wm. Cowdrye & Joanna Licence [is a surname], 17 Apr. 1626. (Buckinghamshire Parish Registers, Marriages, Phillimore, vol. 6, p. 11.)

Note. William Cowdrey of Reading, Mass., deposed 27 Sept. 1672, aged 69 years, and in another deposition, not long afterward, was called about 70. Nathaniel Cowdrey, his son, deposed 22 Jan. 1655/6, aged about 26 years. (Middlesex County Court Records.)

(2) Thomas Hale, Watton apud Stone.

Thomas Hall [sic] of Watton apud Stone, Co. Hertford, glover, and Thomazin Dowsett, maiden: p. lycense, 1632 Dec. 11. (Registers of St. Helen's, Bishopsgate, London, p. 133.) [Hall is an error for Hale.]

Note. Thomas Hale of Newbury, Mass., glover, came from Watton apud Stone.

(3) JOHN HEALD, Alderley.

Johannes Heald & Dorothea Royle, 3 Dec. 1636. (Cheshire Parish Registers, Marriages, Phillimore, vol. 5, p. 3.)

Note. John Heald, son of John and Dorothy, was baptized at Alderley, in Mar. 1636/7.

(4) STEPHEN KINSLEY, Boston.

Stephen Kyinsley (Kindsley) & Marie Spawlding, 29 Apr. 1624. (Parish Registers of Boston, Lincolnshire, Eng., vol. 2, p. 111.)

Note. Stephen Kinsley deposed 29 Apr. 1653, aged 55 years or thereabouts (Supreme Judicial Court Records). His oldest daughter was born about 1626. The baptismal name of his wife, who died 10 Jan. 1668 at Milton, Mass., does not seem to be mentioned in New England records. He had a daughter Mary and it is though that she bore her mother's name. The variant spelling Kindsley in the record quoted above was printed in italics to indicate that it was so spelled in the Bishop's Transcript.

(5) BRYAN PENDLETON, Birmingham.

Bryene pendelton et Ellinor prise Aprell 22, 1619. (Register of St. Martin's, Birmingham, England, 1554-1653, p. 108.)

Note. Bryan Pendleton, who came to New England, was born about 1599, by deposition. His son Nicholas, baptized 4 Dec. 1619, at St. Martin's, Birmingham, England, probably died young.

(6) VALENTINE PRENTICE, Chelmsford.

Valentine Prentys and Alice B[. . . . .], 29 June 1626. (Essex Parish Registers, Marriages, Phillimore, vol. 2, p. 47.)

Note. The family name of Alice, wife of Valentine Prentice, is, unfortunately, illegible (except the first letter) in Chelmsford, England, parish records.

THE CHILDREN OF ELEANOR TRESLER

By MERTON TAYLOR GOODRICH, M.A., of Keene, N. H.

While tracing a Phelps line of ancestry recently, I found an unusual situation. My interpretation of it, which is new, is herewith submitted.

By a document dated 15 Feb. 1654, Elinor Tresler appointed her sons Henry and Nicholas joint executors of her estate; made bequests to her sons Henry, Nicholas, and Edward, to two daughters not named, and to her grandchildren, namely John Phelps, two children of Nicholas not named, to Elizabeth, Samuel,

The deed in the Gloucestershire Records Office (reference, G.R.O./D 73/2), for the copy of which Mr. Gray has our grateful thanks, reads as follows:

"John Turner, master, and the Scholars of the Grammar School TO Timothy Aldridge of Wotton-under-Edge, tailor. Lease for 99 years (or lives of Timothy Aldridge, Sarah his sister and John Howell of Slimbridge) of a messuage and garden in Haw Street (late in the tenure of Thomas Kimberley and the surrender of his lease, for the lives of himself, Alice his wife and Abraham their son, 'procured' by Timothy Aldridge). Rent 11/- which was 12d. more than that paid by Thomas Kimberley, provided that if the rent be not paid within twenty days of the due date or the premises being let without permission the master and scholars to re-enter, tenant to repair and keep in order, and to attend the Courts Baron of the master and scholars when summoned. 30 August 1635.

"Sealed and delivered in the presence of:
John Smyth, William Archard, Jos. Hatch, R. Smith and another."

ANCESTRY OF THE PRENTICES OF PRESTON, CONN.

By Clarence Almon Torrey, Ph. B., of Boston, Mass.

In some accounts of Capt. Thomas[1] Prentice of Newton, Mass., and his descendants, it is stated that Samuel[3] Prentice, son of Thomas[2] and Sarah (Stanton) Prentice, married Esther Hammond and had a son Joseph, born Jan. 26, 1704, who married Mary Wheeler, Nov. 10, 1725. This Samuel Prentice did not have a son Joseph.

The Joseph Prentice who married Mary Wheeler, Nov. 10, 1725, was not a descendant of Capt. Thomas[1] Prentice. Joseph's immigrant ancestor was Valentine[1] Prentice, who came to New England in 1631 with his wife Alice and son John. He died at Roxbury, Mass., exact date unknown. His widow Alice married second, April 3, 1634, John Watson.

Valentine[1] Prentys, as his name is spelled in the records, married Alice B[———], June 29, 1626, at Chelmsford, England. [The American Genealogist, 10:15.]

John[2] Prentice (Valentine[1]), born, it is supposed, about 1628, removed to New London, Conn. By his first wife Hester he had ten children. Particulars about his wives and family are planned for inclusion in a later article.

His oldest child, John[3], born Aug. 6, 1652, at New London, married Nov. 23, 1675, Sarah Jones. He died March 21, 1714/15; she died April 14, 1733.

Joseph[4], oldest child of John and Sarah (Jones)

Prentice, baptized Feb. 4, 1676/7, at New London, married Nov. 25 [or 26, the date has been read both ways], 1700, at Stonington, Conn., Hannah Chesebrough, and removed to Preston, Conn.

Joseph[5] Prentice, Jr., son of Joseph and Hannah (Chesebrough) Prentice, baptized March 14, 1702/3, at Preston, married there Nov. 10, 1725, Mary Wheeler.

THE FAMILY OF PILGRIM SIMPKINS OF BOSTON

By Winifred Lovering Holman, S.B., F.A.S.G.

Not all of the available sources for Pilgrim Simpkins and his father have been covered. The following notes were made in connection with the Simpkins marriages of the brothers Deacon John and Christopher Kilby, and as explaining the Tyler relationship to the Kilbys; see this writer's "Kilby Notes," The American Genealogist, vol. 27, pp. 197, 202. The church records have been covered only to 1740, and the deaths to 1800.

Nicholas Simpkins, born about 1600, was the first captain of the Castle, in Boston, about 1634; went to Yarmouth by 9 Feb. 1638, returning to Boston by 1649, where he died, intestate, in 1656, leaving a widow, Mrs. Isabel Simpkins. Nicholas testified in 1654, aged 54, and Isabel at the same time, aged 44. He had three surviving children: Deborah, who married George Burrell; Pilgrim; and Rebecca, who was married by Governor Bellingham, 29 Jan. 1654, at Boston, to William Therell. Pilgrim appears in the two estate deeds, drawn by the heirs 24 Jan. 1669. [The Mayflower Descendant, 2:75-6; 10:141-2; 14:154-5; Suffolk Probate, Misc. Docket; Suffolk Deeds, 9:223-4; Boston Rec. Comm., 9:49.]

Capt. Pilgrim[2] Simpkins, only son of Capt. Nicholas, born perhaps in Yarmouth, Mass., about 1625, died in Boston, Mass., 3 Dec. 1720, aged about 96, buried in the Granary; married first, about 1658, Miriam ———, who died there, 10 Nov. 1660; married second, ceremony by Gov. Bellingham, 27 Nov. 1661, Katharine Richardson, who died there 7 Apr. 1721, aged about 86, buried in the Granary.

Besides the 1669 deeds mentioned above, Pilgrim gave only one other: 13 July 1688, Pilgrim Simpkins, of Boston, mariner, and Katharine, his wife, convey to Thomas Tyler, of same, mariner, for £40, land in Boston. Witnesses: Richard Cheever and Eliezer Moody, Scr. Acknowledged 21 Dec. 1695 and recorded 1703. [Suffolk Deeds, 21:425.]

NICHOLS FAMILY (WESTPORT)

Nichols, ———.

He m. Mercy, dau. of Mrs. Susanna Jones by her former husband (Holdsworth or Hollingsworth). She m. (2) Thomas Disbrow, and was tried for witchcraft, 1692.

The only member of the Francis Nichols family who could possibly have been her husband was John[3] (John[2], Francis[1]), who d. in K. Philip's War, 1676, but the probate records do not indicate that this man left widow and children. If Mercy's husband was not this John, he was of some other Nichols family.

A Mercy Niccolson was divorced from John Niccolson, Oct. 1677, he having deserted her for over five years. Knowing that the name Wilcoxson became shortened in some branches to Wilcox, it is tempting to surmise that in John Nicholson we have the first husband of the witch Mercy, and that James Nicholson may have been his son, and a brother or half-brother of John and Nathaniel Nichols. But we hardly dare do more than suggest the possibility.
